FOREWORD

*To publish a book which will be to every one of Simpson's sons and daughters a vivid and meaningful
picture of the school life
of the year 1923-24 and which will be a living record of Simpson's many successes gained and honors won—this has been our aim*

CAMPUS SONG

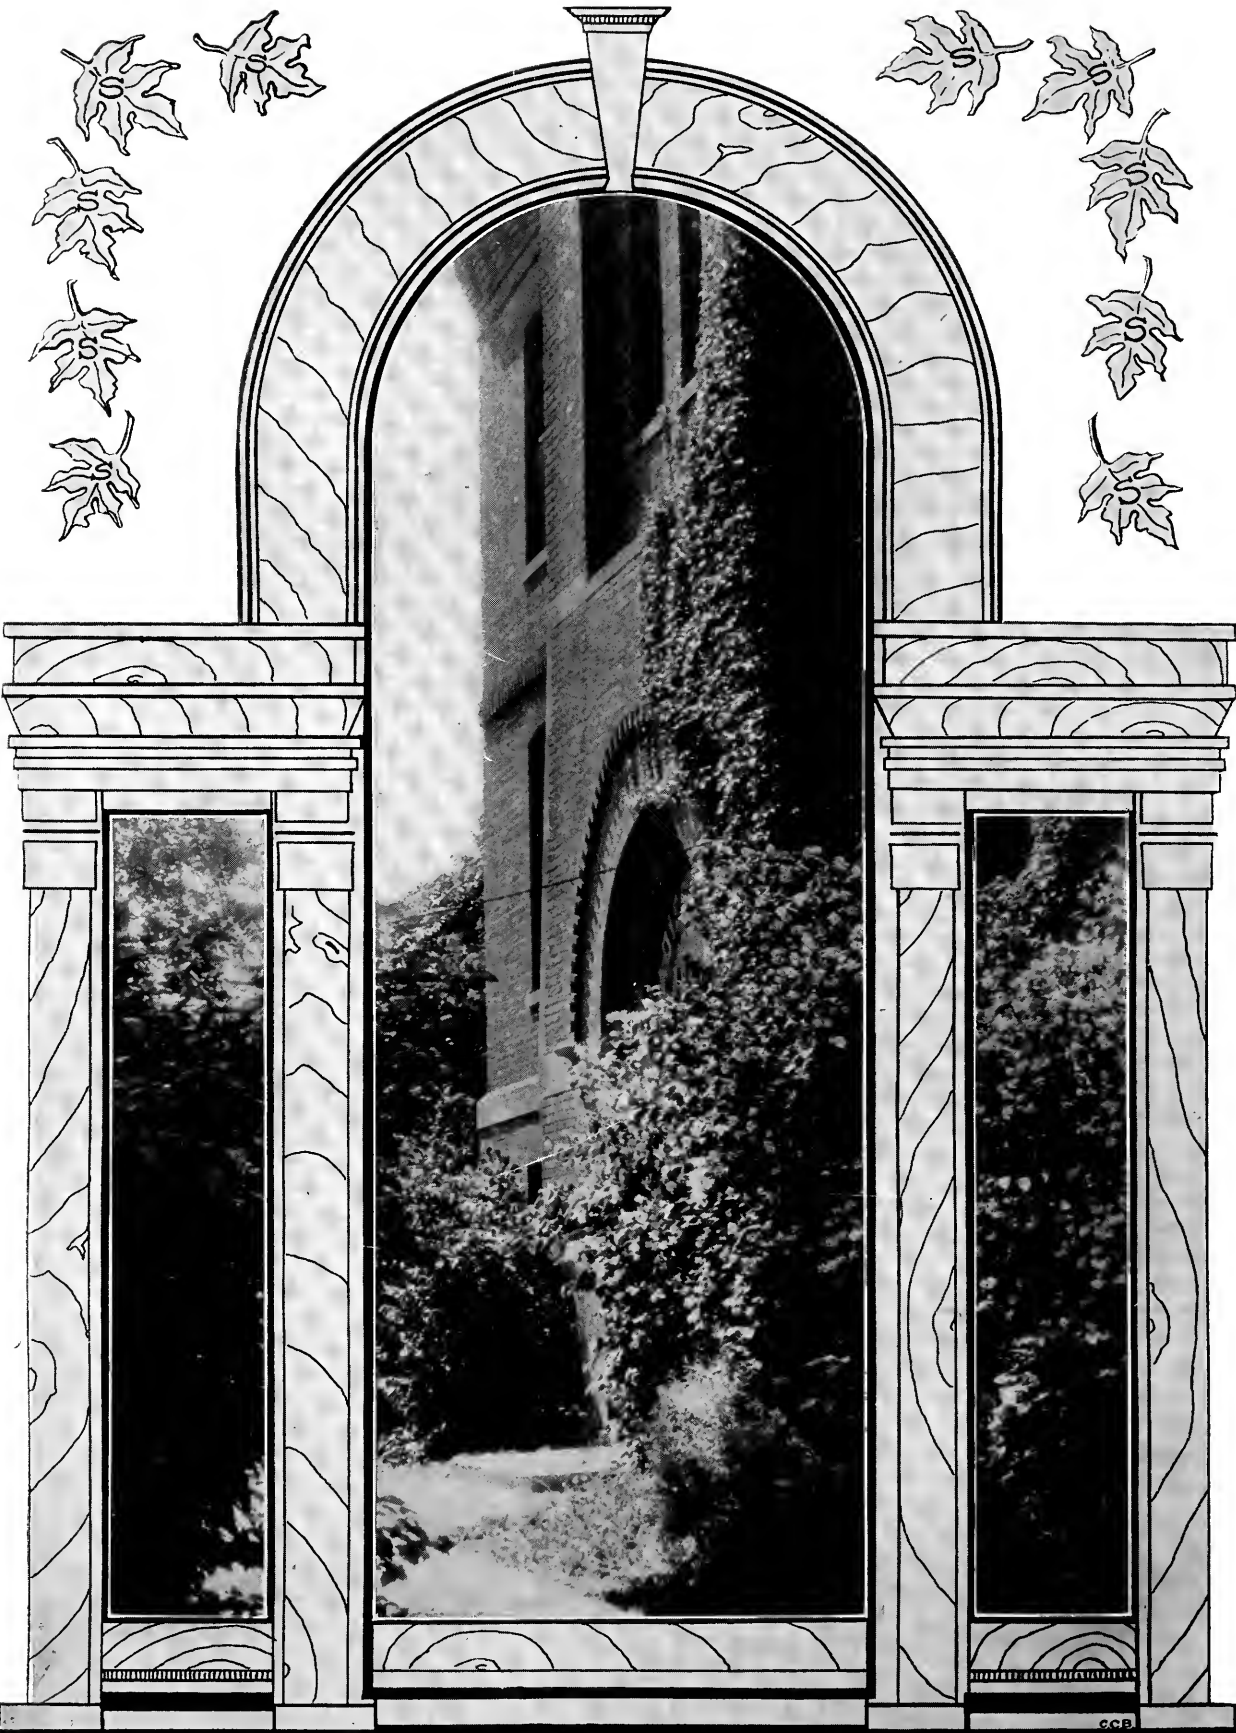

*The campus, the velvety campus
Is such a good place for a lark
Serenading, promenading
By the cases if I may remark
That somehow abound in spring weather
And flourish in cool shady nooks
And the bell—chapel bell
Is forgotten because of shy looks.*

*Oh, the campus, the campus, the campus Oho!
Your stories the gossips would jar
But whispering maples don't tell all they know
Such a clever old campus you are.*

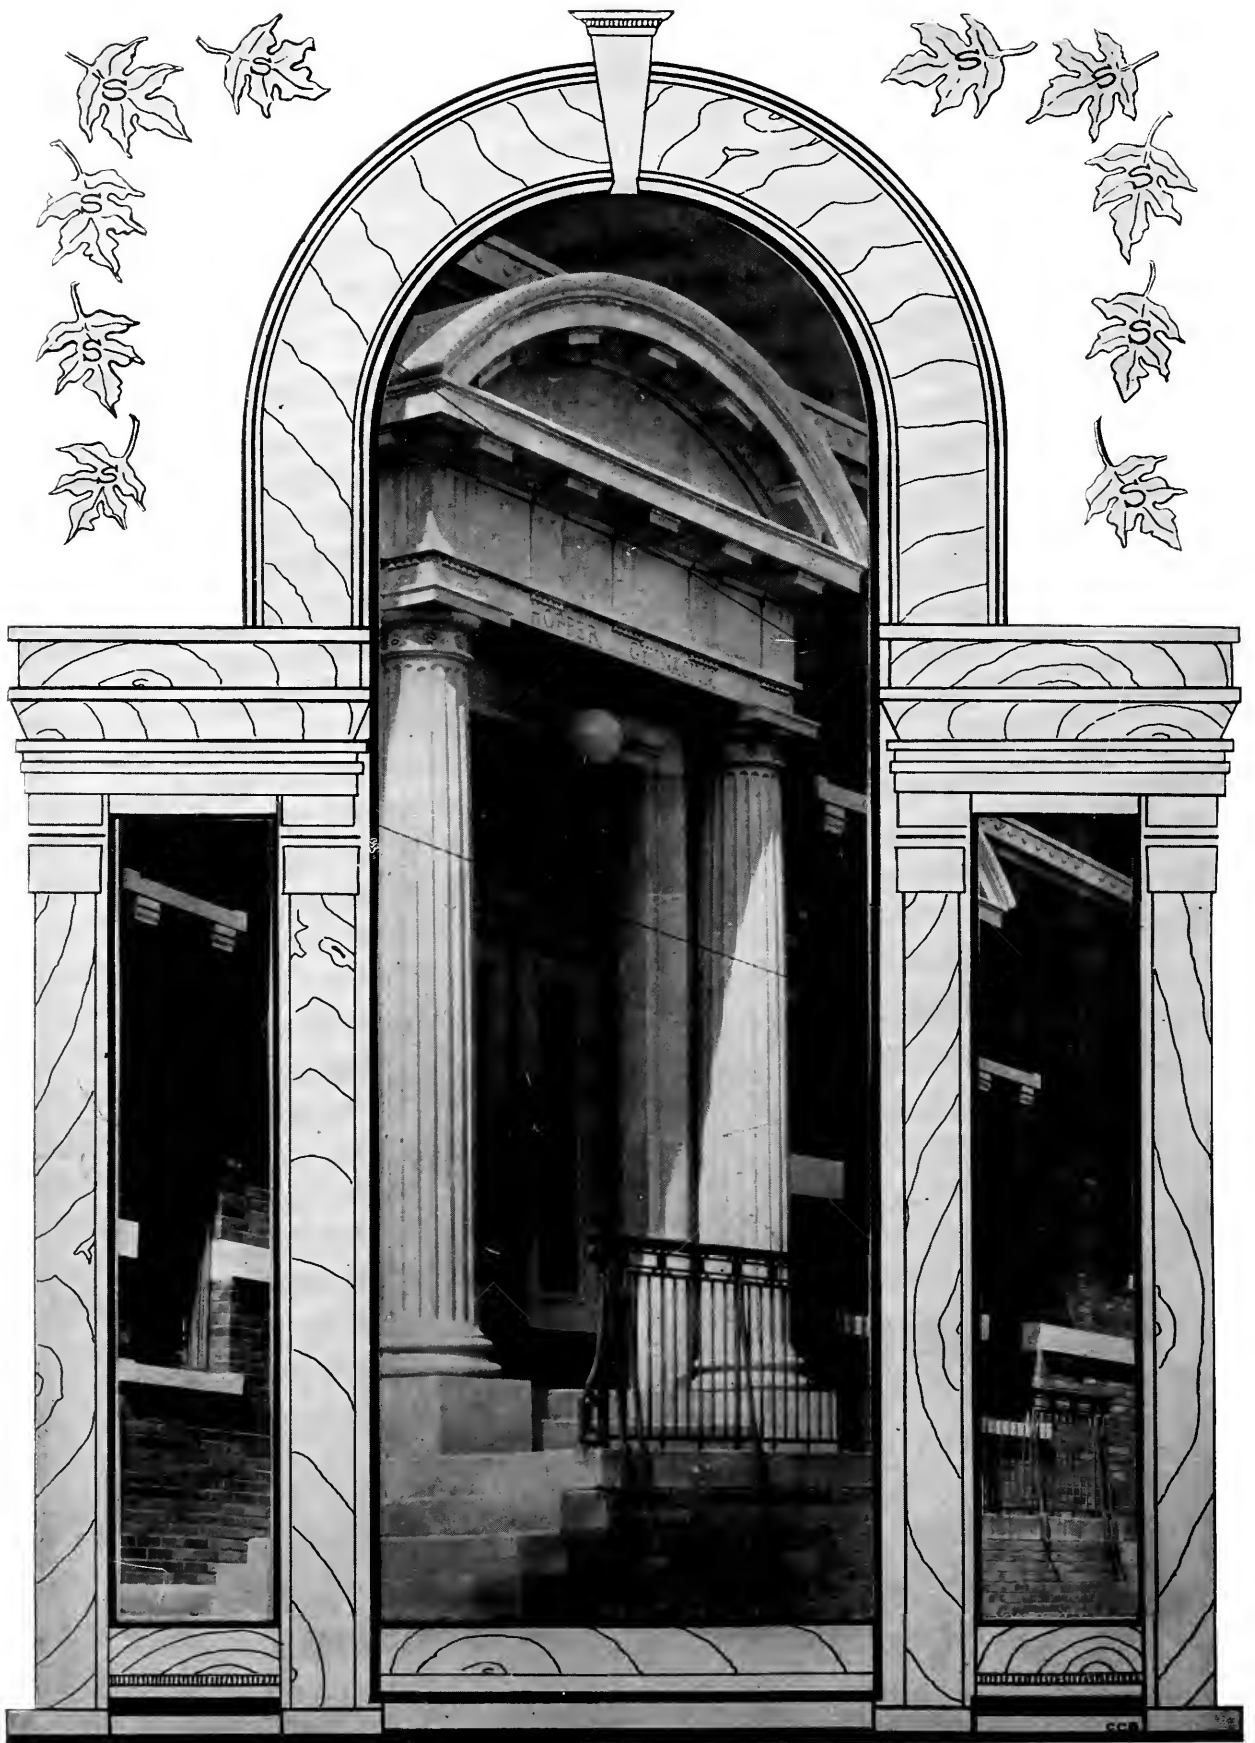

*'Tis here at the opening of college
The old and the new friends we see
And at midnight, round the firelight
Chant the song of a new victory.
I've a fancy for riotous color
Where music and laughter abound
So I'm keen for the scene
At the time when the maypoles are wound.*

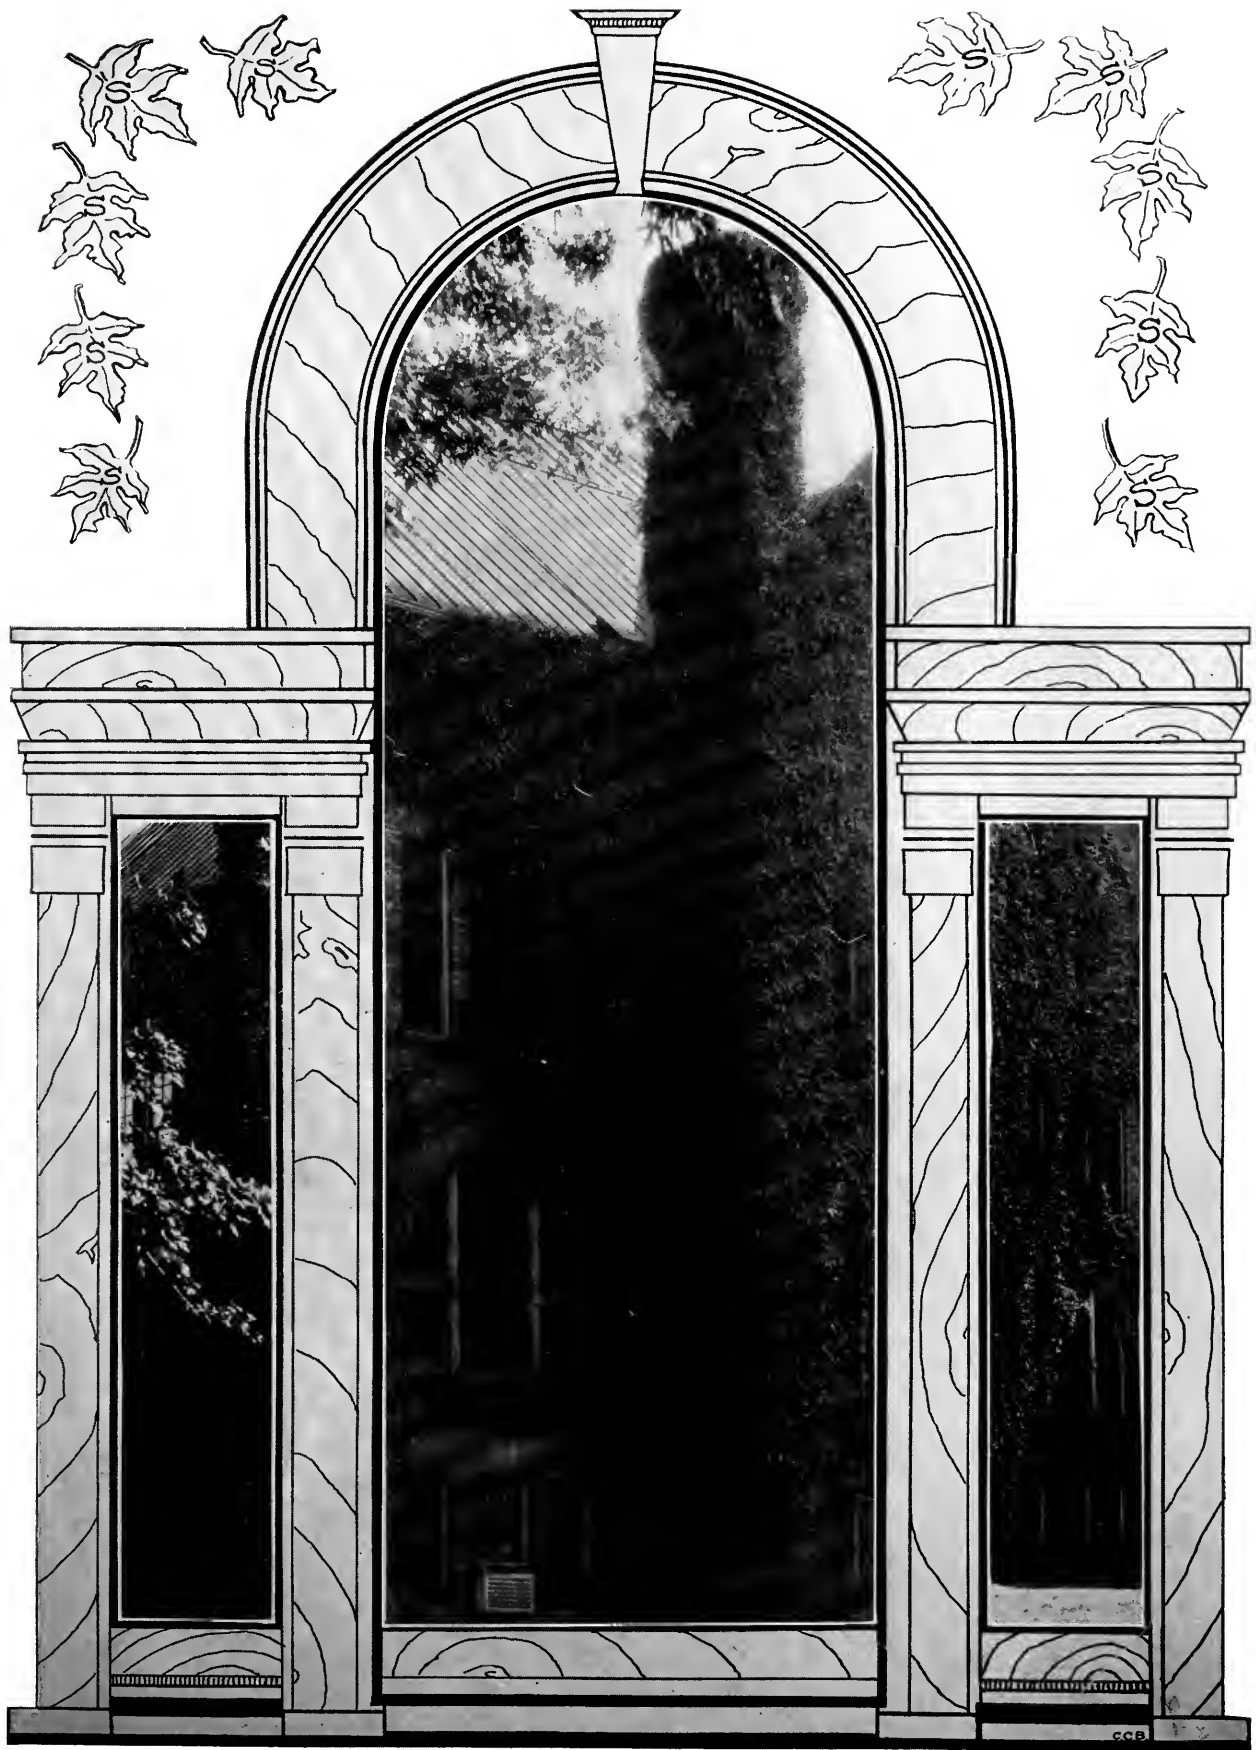

*Oh, the campus, the campus, the campus Oho!
Your stories the gossips would jar
But whispering maples don't tell all they know
Such a clever old campus you are.*

FLORENCE MASTERS Guthrie Center, Ia. RUTH MORRIS Indianola, Ia.

ENGLISH

Generous, sympathetic and practical. Looks forward to a life of service on the foreign missionary field.

BIOLOGY

Efficient and friendly. Nature is responsible for her dignity. Teaches school, but comes home every week end.

W. THEODORE HOLLADAY Indianola, Ia. FERMAN MITCHELL Indianola, Ia.

BIOLOGY

A frank, sincere and conscientious fellow with great ability.

EDUCATION

Spends lots of time with his dog and gun. A lover of nature in the out-of-doors—and even "human."

FLORENCE COX Indianola, Ia. ESTHER MARSH Indianola, Ia.

ENGLISH

Always kind and pleasant. An earnest seeker after knowledge, the while imparting of its benefits to the students of the Academy.

HOME ECONOMICS

Modest and shy, but a true friend. Is somewhat inclined toward "Athe(y)ism."

PAUL H. GIDDENS Nevada, Ia. DEAN LONG Albia, Ia.

HISTORY

Dependable and energetic. Has a good "line." Always hates to see the "Robins" leave.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

A careful and conscientious student. A man of affairs who never has too much to do to take on another job. Dates occasionally, but doesn't have much time for women.

LOUISE ABEL Des Moines, Ia. MILDRED MEER Indianola, Ia.

A friend to all. An authority on all Home Ec. subjects. "Abel" to "Turn'er" hand to any task.

EDUCATION AND PSYCHOLOGY

Worlds of ability lie under her quiet exterior. Is majoring in education, but seems to be quite devoted to Art.

ALICE BUTLER

ROMANCE LANGUAGES

Capable and industrious, she is deserving of all the honors that come her way. Through wit and will she is bound to succeed.

Indianola, Ia.

RUTH CLEMENTS

One of those people whose energy is not measured by their size. Has a decided personality of her own.

Carroll, Ia.

ALDEN SMITH

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Blessed with a brain and a magnanimous personality. Delightfully "fresh" to his friends, yet reticent and thoughtful to those who don't call him "Dotty."

Winterset, Ia.

E. FRANK SAYRE

ECONOMICS

Dependable and energetic. Never worries much about anything. Has supreme confidence in his own ability.

Indianola, Ia.

ETHEL HARVEY

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

The School of Business of Simpson College was one of the pioneers in scientific business training. For many years the success of its graduates has been demonstrating the value of a business education. At present it is doing excellent work, using modern methods in teaching students how to meet the difficult problems of modern business. This year has been unusually satisfactory in the amount of work accomplished and the enthusiastic coöperation of every member of the School of Business.

The thorough training in fundamental principles is equally valuable to the student whether he is preparing for a business career or for the teaching profession.

Full college credit is given for the work done in the School of Business, thus enabling many students to combine a business training with a Liberal Arts course without taking any extra time.

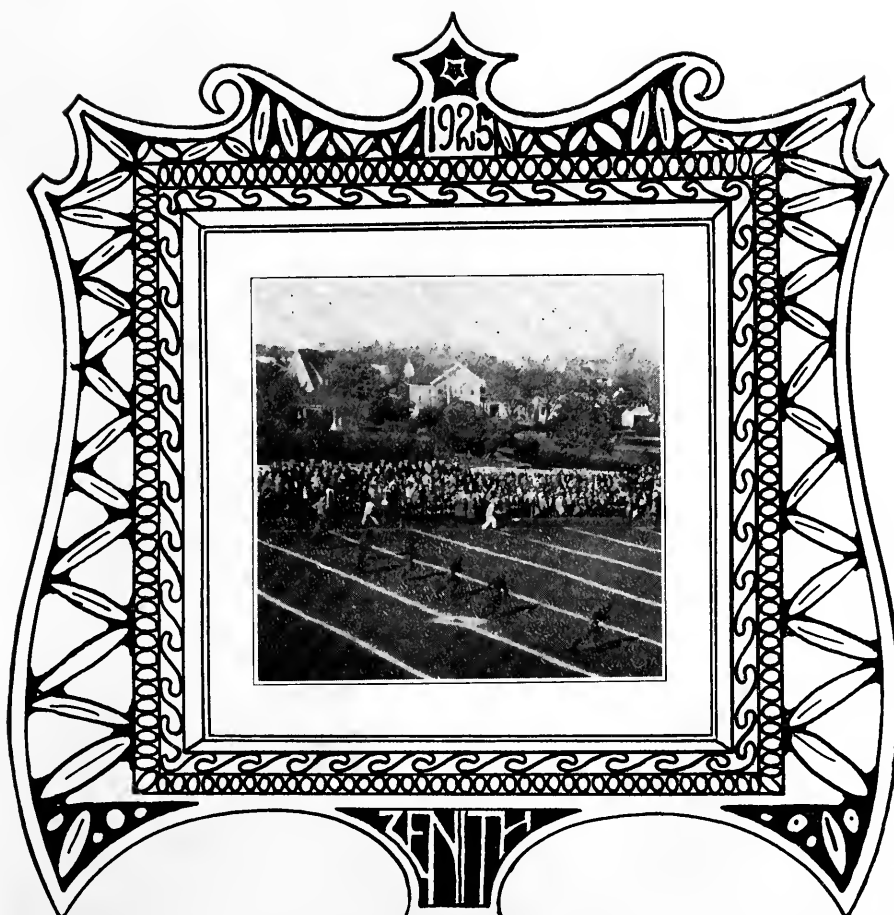

The enviable positions held with demonstrated success by graduates of the School of Business are proof of the high quality of the work done in this school.

NOEL WORKMAN

It is not within the power of any man to describe the success that our new coach has brought to us this year. Brilliant as an athlete and student at Ohio State, his Alma Mater, he so transformed and imbued the spirit of his own championship team into our school that only the most gratifying results were shown. A student of athletics, a leader of men and a sportsman from the ground up, we only desire to give him just credit when we say that he deserves the thanks of every booster of the Red and Gold for what he has done.

THE JOSHUA CLUB

In order that Simpson may have successful athletic teams, the student body must be loyal and interested. Even though the athletics of the college seem on the down road, the students must stand strong in their support with unflinching loyalty.

Last year an organization, by name "The Howling Hundred," appeared on our campus with the avowed purpose of having at least one hundred staunch backers of the teams. This year we can say with satisfaction that it has not been necessary to emphasize the work of this organization. Every Simpson student has been a vigorous backer of athletics. Whether winning or losing, Simpson has been conspicuous for united school spirit. Consequently we attribute much of this year's athletic success to the above factor.

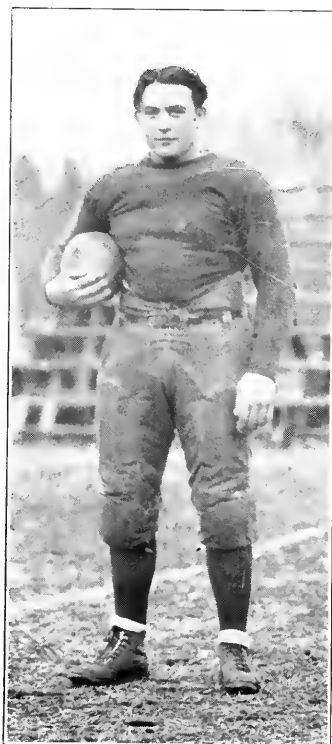

John Hillman, Jr., was elected "Joshua" leader at the beginning of the school year and has worked faithfully throughout the year. He has been ably assisted by Paul Giddens and Darrell Reed.

With twelve letter men out for the first practice under the leadership of Captain Joe Meek and the unusual coaching of Coach Workman, the football prospects looked bright for Simpson from the very first. The first game with Ames proved that we had a football team of unusual calibre although Ames got away with the bacon with a 14 to 6 score. It was only their proficiency in the use of the aerial game which gave them their winning points, but the Simpson fighting aggregation won glory by their defeat by such an institution as Ames. The team as a whole starred and put every bit of fight possible into the game. Captain Meek deserves special mention as does Barney McCoy who gained the attention of Walter Eckersall of Chicago by his sensational runs. Kingery, playing his first Varsity football, fought like a veteran despite early season injuries.

With Toom, Officer, Halden, Kingery, and Remy out of the lineup due to injuries received in the Ames tilt, the team skidded and plowed their way to a 37-0 victory over Graceland in the first home game of the season. Despite the muddy condition of the field Barney McCoy made several sensational runs which paved the way to victory. The next game with Central was a track meet in itself. Simpson's gridiron warriors downed the Central eleven, winning the opening Conference game by a score of 78-0.

By a victory of 17-0 over Parsons on the following Saturday our hopes for the Conference championship were given a boost. Only by playing the steadiest and most consistent brand of football were Coach Devine's veterans defeated. The visitors put up a great fight and threatened to score several times, keeping the Simpson team on its toes until the final whistle blew. Mercer was the outstanding back, making not only long gains through the line, but made all the scores for the Red and Gold. His kicking, too, was remarkable, his punts averaging over forty yards, and his drop kick from the 40-yard line brought Simpson's first score. Mercer was ably supported in the backfield by Karr, McCoy, and Remy. In the line Captain Meek simply wrecked the Parsons offense and Toom, Shultz, and Smith are to be commended for the way they opened up the Parsons line on the offense. Kingery, Meek, and Toom showed great stuff in going down under the long kicks, downing the Parson's safety man in his tracks many times. Fawcett and Scroggs at the wing positions threw runners for losses repeatedly.

A week later, fighting in their customary style from the opening whistle, Simpson's gridiron warriors defeated Ashby and ten other Penn men by the overwhelming count of 40-7 in the next conference tilt putting Coach Workman's squad well in the lead toward the conference championship. The Quakers had a strong aerial attack, but were weak in all other departments of the game and it was only due to Ashby's great passing ability that they registered their lone touchdown.

Meek and Kingery effectively stopped all off-tackle smashes; Sutton, Toom, and Smith downed everything that headed toward the center of the line, and Officer and Fawcett smeared the interference on end runs. Fawcett budded into a galloping pill carrier by picking up a fumble in the second quarter and running fifty-five yards for a touchdown. R. McCoy, a freshman, played well at the fullback position under Karr's able direction. Hoskins' work was also commendable.

Kingery, Sutton, Boren, Halden

Before a large Homecoming crowd the Tutors were next in line to bow to Simpson's Varsity to the tune of 13-0. The Varsity got away on a poor start, but Mercer soon punted out of danger and two tackles, one by Fawcett and the other by Toom threw the visitors for costly losses. Early in the third quarter the Simpson offense hit its stride and registered two touchdowns, then the visitors braced and tried desperately to score via the aerial route without success. On the offense R. McCoy and Mercer showed up best, while on the defense Kingery, Meek, and Fawcett starred. Karr directed the offense of the Red and Gold in good shape while Barney and Holliday made several nice gains through the line.

In the next contest Simpson's Varsity crushed Iowa Wesleyan gridders 55 to 3, Wesleyan's only score came early in the third quarter from a 25-yard place-kick. In the third quarter Simpson scored twenty-eight points and Workman, seeing that victory was assured, gave the entire second team an opportunity to exhibit what they could do. The seconds registered two touchdowns before the final whistle.

The Des Moines U. game was the final test and by displaying a driving offense and a stubborn defense, the Simpson warriors walloped the fighting Tigers by the decisive score of 25 to 13. The game was the best of the season and gave the team ample opportunity to show how carefully they had been coached during the season. The whole team played together as a unit making it hard to point out definitely any one great star. Officer performed wonderfully, having three touchdowns to his credit. Karr displayed the best generalship of the season and deserves a great deal of credit. Mercer slashed through the line for great gains and Halden ran beautiful interference and did fine work breaking up Tiger passes. In the line Kingery's stellar play at right tackle rivaled Meek in glory at wrecking Tiger plunges and blocking kicks. In the center of the line Shultz, Smith, and Boren formed a formidable defense with Fawcett forcing the plays in their direction.

The last game of the season was won by a 18-0 count over Upper Iowa thus keeping our slate clean and giving Simpson a clear title to the Conference Championship. Upper Iowa resorted largely to an aerial attack which proved unsuccessful against the Simpson defensive backfield. McCoy and Karr showed up well for Simpson on the offense while Halden and Mercer did great work intercepting and breaking up passes. Toom and Kingery did their share in stopping the few line plunges and Officer and Fawcett smeared the end runs. Meek, Shultz, Smith, Scroggs, and Hoskins played well in their last opportunity to represent Simpson on the gridiron.

That the Varsity earned their conference title cannot be questioned for they won seven conference games without a defeat, scoring 239 points to their opponents 37, despite the stiff competition the team met. So viewed from every angle the season of 1923 has been a most successful one. Coach Workman has produced for local fans what has long been dreamed for, a real championship team. Despite the loss of five letter men there is every reason to expect that Workman's proteges under Captain-Elect Karr will repeat and Simpson will have another winning year next season.

ALL STATE AND ALL CONFERENCE

Simpson College was honored as perhaps never before by having three of her gridiron warriors placed on the Des Moines Register's 1923 all-state teams. Captain Meek, guard; Kenneth Mercer, half back, and Shultz, guard were the individuals who won coveted positions on the mythical elevens.

The work of Meek, Mercer, and Shultz was such that the three men could not be overlooked by Iowa sport writers. Their work was the outstanding feature of practically every game. Meek, in particular, was the mainstay on both offense and defense of every game on the schedule.

On the mythical conference team Simpson landed a total of six players, as against three by the next highest competitor. Meek, guard; Shultz, guard; Mercer, half back were placed on the first all-conference aggregation, and Fawcett, end; Smith, center; McCoy, half back were on the second all-conference team.

With Mercer, McCoy, and Fawcett back on the squad next fall aided by Captain-Elect Karr, Officer, Kingery, and Halden who received honorable mention in the All-Conference Honor Roll and under the able coaching of Coach Workman, the grid team for 1924 should make another fine showing.

MANAGERS

A system of athletic managers was instituted this year and has proved very successful. A Junior Manager is appointed by Coach Workman for each major sport, and for his services is awarded an "S" sweater. The Junior Manager has under his direction two Sophomores who aspire to be Junior Managers and a number of Freshmen who are trying to gain a Sophomore appointment. Six Freshmen numerals are given each year to the six most industrious Freshmen and these six act as Sophomore Managers the next year. One of the two Sophomore Managers for each sport is given a Junior appointment which he fills the following year.

The system has proved very satisfactory and gives the fellows who are not athletes an opportunity to make a letter. Managers are a great help to the Coach for they enable him to devote more of his time to actual coaching.

and Scroggs did such good work on defense that most of Penn's points were made on free throws and long shots.

Simpson swamped the Teacher Quintet in its seventh conference victory by a score of 20-10. The game was featured by Simpson's sparkling offense and airtight defense, the latter being responsible for the 11-0 count at the end of the first half. The celebration of this victory was cut short by a 22-17 defeat at the hands of the Peacocks. It was a fast game and only after a most strenuous effort was the Upper Iowa's well balanced aggressive five able to gain the lead at the end of the second half.

In a fast contest Drake turned a defeat into victory rallying in the second half and caging two long baskets in the closing minute of the second overtime period. Drake, because of poor passing and inaccurate basket shooting was outplayed and out-scored in the first half. In the second half and in the overtime periods through the marvelous floor work and shooting of Evert they were able to win a bitterly contested victory. Barney McCoy was the outstanding star for the Red and Gold while Fawcett and Scroggs equally shared the honors on defense.

Playing without the services of McCoy and Fisher the varsity defeated Iowa Wesleyan in a slow contest to the tune of 18-12. It was the slowest game played on the local court during the season. Fawcett, Sipherd and Scroggs starred for the Simpson team.

Simpson lost her third conference game in a hard fought contest to Parsons, the winner of the Conference. Coach Devine's men started the game with a grim determination to win and Simpson opened the basketball season by taking two games from Central, the scores, 28-36 and 21-26. The next encounter was with Iowa Wesleyan in which Barney McCoy was the scoring ace for Simpson. Fawcett and Scroggs demonstrated their ability as guards by holding the Wesleyan forwards scoreless for nearly a fourth of the game. The game resulted in a 15-4 victory for the Red and Gold cagers.

The game with Parsons proved a battle Royal with the Red and Gold emerging with the long end of a 22-16 victory. The feature of the game was the offensive work of Mercer.

Simpson annexed its next victory by winning a spectacular game from Nebraska Wesleyan 18-17. The visitors presented a flashy offense and worked the ball down for several short shots. Fawcett and McCoy stood out as the most effective players.

The Des Moines U. game which had been looked forward to as the big game of the season was a disappointment. The team minus the services of McCoy and Mercer was clearly outplayed. During the first half Des Moines kept the crippled Simpson team from caging a single field goal while they themselves chalked up 14 points. In the second half Simpson came back with lots of fight but the big lead proved too great an obstacle to overcome. Scroggs and Fisher were the mainstays of the team.

With McCoy back in the lineup the Red and Gold downed the Penn aggregation 30-26 in a hard battle. McCoy exhibited his usual flashy dribbling while Sipherd showed up best in floor work. Fawcett injured and compelled to leave the floor, Karr taking his place. Patterson dropped in two long ones for Penn and for the rest of the contest Penn held the lead.

McCoy

In the final game of the season Simpson won a rather listless game from Upper Iowa by a score 33-27. The game was rough and erratic with each team fighting with a determination that kept the final outcome in doubt until the closing minutes of the game. Upper Iowa, though prevented from getting close to the basket by the brilliant guarding of Captain Fawcett, secured a number of long shots. Sipherd played a stellar offensive game and Fisher played a nice floor game, accounting for five baskets. Barney annexed four goals although handicapped by his injured knee. Dick Scroggs playing his last game put up a wonderful scrap at guard and in addition scored one basket.

Although Simpson did not again take the lead in the Iowa Conference, her record was enviable in that she took the measure of every Conference team she played, defeating Parsons, '24 champions, in a game on her own floor.

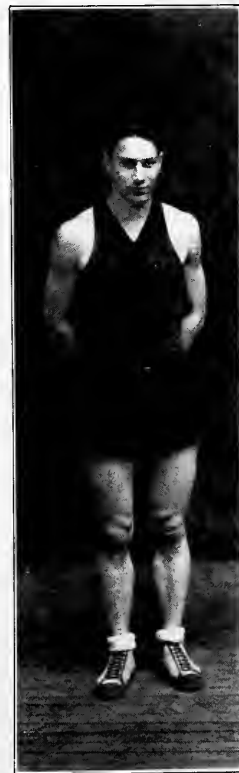

The season was featured by brilliant individual work plus a display of team work and a defense that gained the respect of every opponent. Well coached and well conditioned, the Red and the Gold has every right to a "place in the sun" in conference basketball circles. McCoy was placed on the second All-State Team by Sec Taylor of the Des Moines Register and McCoy and Scroggs were both given berths on the All-Conference team.

played great ball thruout the contest. Workman's quintet fought hard to stave off defeat but with McCoy unable to cage a single field their efforts were without success. While Fisher was high point man, Sipherd and McCoy covered the floor in great style. Fawcett and Scroggs permitted very few short shots the majority of the points being made by long shots and free throws.

The varsity downed the Tutors in a game that was fast in spots tho' rather loosely played. The teachers rallied soon after the opening whistle but Fisher rung up a couple of short shots immediately following and started the Red and Gold on a lead that the Tutors could not overcome. Fisher was high point man with McCoy a close second. Sipherd did some fine floor work.

In the feature game of the season the Tigers were trounced by Simpson's team by a 26-18 count. By playing a sensational game the varsity earned a well deserved victory over D. M. U. and revenged the 21-7 defeat suffered early in the season. McCoy and Fisher led the Simpson attack assisted by the scrappy floor work of Sipherd. Scroggs played a whirlwind game and Captain Fawcett was conspicuous for his brilliant guarding. Capt-elect McCoy fought his way through for the last basket of the game when he dribbled through the D. M. team, eluding three men under the basket and, although knocked off his feet once, caged his shot.

In a rough contest on the Monday following the D. M. game, Penn College basketballers trimmed Simpson in a decisive score of 28-20. Simpson took an early lead with baskets from McCoy and Sipherd. At this point in the game McCoy was

INTRAMURAL SERIES

The first intramural basketball tournament was staged this year under the direction of Coach Workman. The large number of athletes participating aroused a great deal of interest in the sport and made the tournament a success.

There were seven teams entered in the tournament which was a round robin affair in which each team had to play each one of the other teams entered. The Alpha Tau Omega team won with a percentage of 1.000 followed closely by the Kappas with a percentage of .833. The final game between the Taus and the Kappas was a close and hard fought match, the score ending 9 to 7 in favor of the former. The work of Meek and Leyland for the winners and Halden and Sayre for the losers was exceptionally good.

A. T. O. TEAM

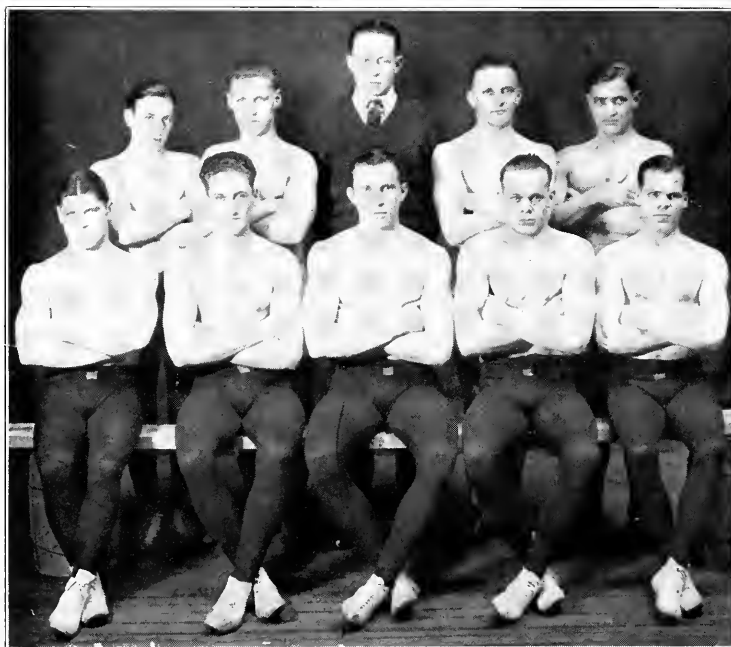

WRESTLING

For the first time in the sport history of Simpson the Red and Gold was represented by a wrestling team. The first match was a practice affair held at Ames. Simpson lost 15 to 8. Bingaman and Gerling in the 135-pound and 145-pound classes, respectively, were the point winners. Others competing were: Hansel, 115-pound class; Wilkins, 125-pound class; Boren, 158-pound class.

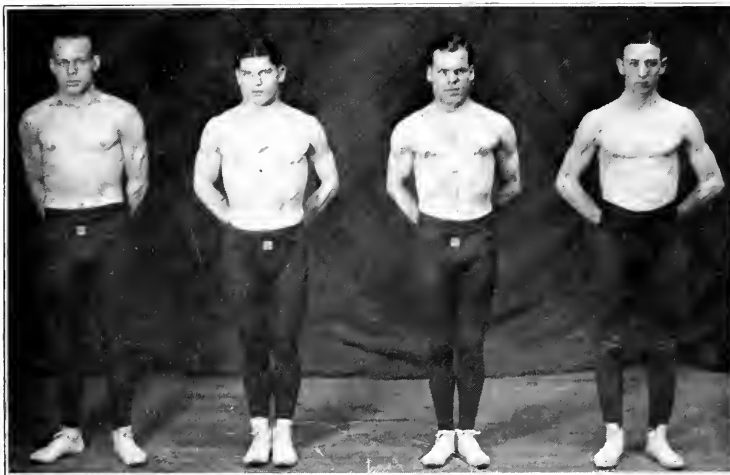

On January 30 the team invaded the State Teachers camp, but came home with the short end of a 16 to 2 score. After wrestling to a draw in the first period, Kingery won a time decision with a time advantage of one minute and twenty-seven seconds.

After losing two meets the athletic committee succeeded in securing Parcaut of Oskaloosa, middleweight champion, to handle the team for the Des Moines University match. Prior to this time the team had been without a coach.

Parcaut proved equal to his task and the Simpson grapplers swamped the Des Moines team under a score of 21 to 0. The meet was fast and interesting all the way through. The team showed remarkable improvement in the technique of the sport. The Simpson men went behind with ease and at no time did the Des Moines men have one of our men in difficulty. The feature matches were between Hansell and Parker in the 115-pound class, Remy and Holt in the 145-pound class. Hansell won a fall in 9:45 with a head scissors and Remy by fast work won a fall with a double bar arm lock in 6:55. Bingaman won his match by a fall in fast time. Toom, 155-pound class, threw his opponent all over the mat and part of the gym floor, to the amusement of the crowd, winning a time advantage of 9:45. Gerling, 135-pound class, and Kingery, 175-pound class, won their matches by a good margin of time advantage.

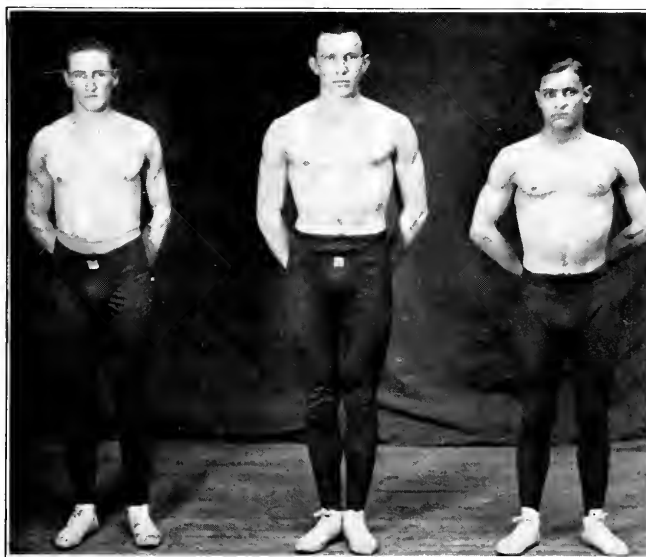

WRESTLING SQUAD

Remy, Bingaman, Wilkins, Hansell

The last meet of the season was the Missouri Valley meet at Ames. Kingery, Bingaman, and Gerling were entered and as a result of their good showing Simpson was invited to enter the Missouri Valley Wrestling Conference. Bingaman was thrown in the first round by Kurtz of Ames who had the time advantage of only 1:23. Gerling gave his opponent a hard tussle, being defeated in a time decision by Vincent of Oklahoma A. & M., the Missouri Valley champion. In his consolation match he lost to Moolering of Nebraska U. in extra periods. Kingery won the well deserved honor of Captain-Elect of the 1925 squad by winning third in the 175-pound class. He lost by a time advantage of only 1:20 to Pillard of Ames who had never been defeated in three years of intercollegiate wrestling. Pillard took first in the 175-pound class in the finals with a time advantage of 10:40. Kingery further showed his class in the finals by defeating Reed of Oklahoma A. & M. in the deciding match of the meet in the first extra period with a time advantage of 2:39.

As a pioneer team the wrestling team did exceptionally well and with seven letter men: Captain-Elect Kingery, Toom, Remy, Gerling, Bingaman, Wilkins, and Hansell returning to school next fall, and such substitutes as J. Sipherd, MacCarthy, and Salmon wrestling will be one of Simpson's most progressive major sports next season.

TENNIS

The Men's Tennis Association sponsored the Second Annual Men's College Tournament in an effort to bring out the best performers at the net game. The tournament was held for the purpose of promoting an interest in the game and to give the officials an opportunity to pick out six men to represent Simpson against Des Moines University on May 23.

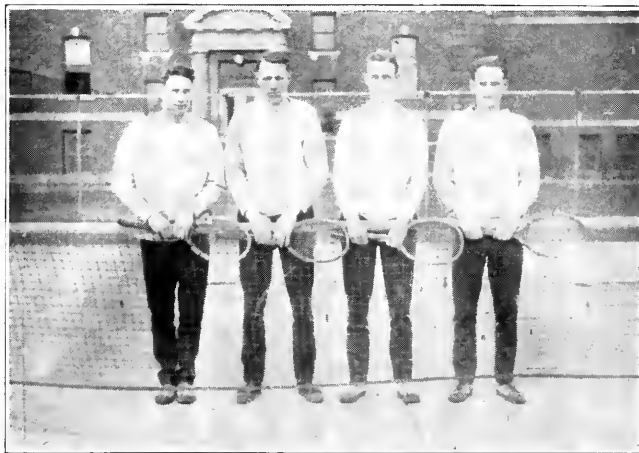

As was expected, many men responded to the call. Sayre, winner of last year's tournament, and Winslow, winner of the Junior-Senior intramural series, were the strongest among the entries. Others looked upon as prospects for the favored six were Johnson, Bates, Rauch, Karr, Sipherd, Scott, Barker, and McGee.

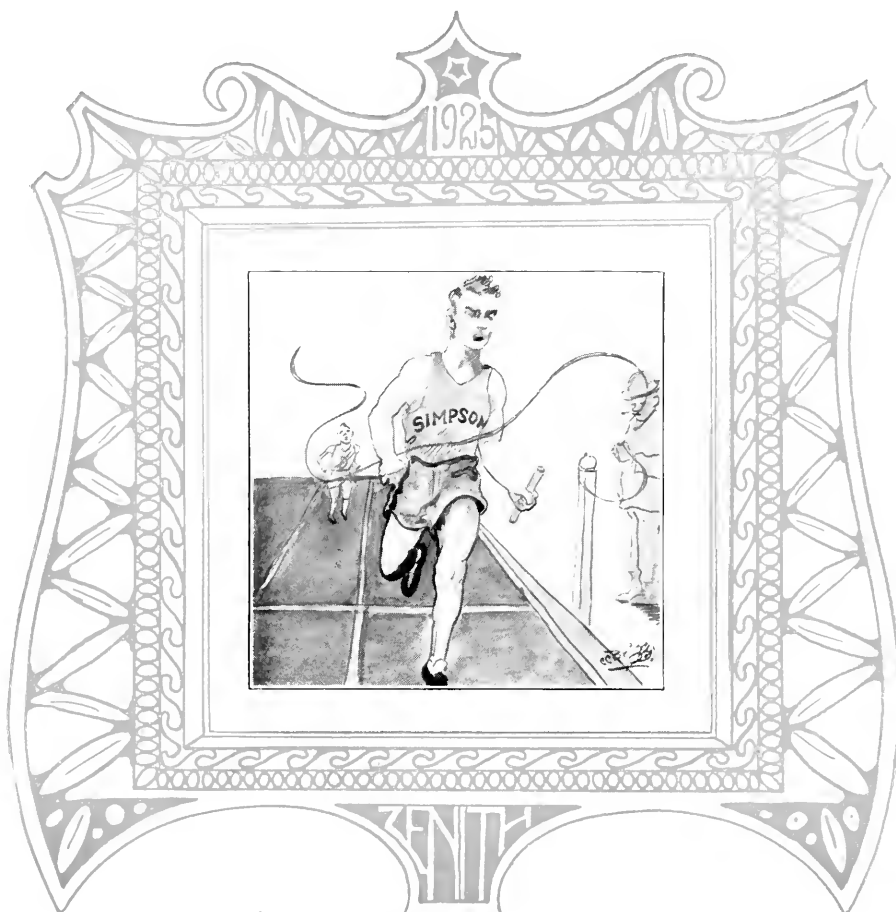

With the old courts in excellent condition and the new courts, given by the class of 1922, just completed, the games of the tournament were played in rapid succession. The stiff competition caused interest to run high among tennis fans. The matches showed up some real stuff and provided a great many closely fought games. These games gave the individual stars ample opportunity to exhibit some real tennis before the eyes of the local lovers of the net game.

The semi-finals between Sayre vs. Winslow and Johnson vs. Rauch proved exceptionally close matches, Sayre and Johnson winning from their opponents in the final sets by a close game call. In the finals Sayre's left handed serves proved too dark for Johnson. This gave Sayre the college championship for the second consecutive time.

The tennis fans were well satisfied with the outcome of what was termed a fast and successful college tournament. As a result the coming dual contest with Des Moines University was looked forward to with much interest and enthusiasm. Two teams were selected, one composed of Sayre, Karr, and Sipherd played three contests on the Des Moines courts, losing one out of the three, while Bates, Winslow, and Rauch succeeded in annexing one match out of the four played on the local courts.

As an intercollegiate team the Simpson team showed up well. Witnesses of the games were greatly pleased with the successful efforts of the first trial in recent years and have expressed the hope that tennis will become a permanent intercollegiate sport for Simpson in the future.

SUMMARY OF THE MEETS

The annual home meet was held on the Saturday before the Drake Relays. The classes were arranged so that the Seniors and Sophomores competed against the Juniors and Freshmen. The Seniors failed to show up which made it doubly easy for the Junior-Freshman team to win. This meet gave Simpson track fans a line on the season's prospects. The outstanding men of the meet were Weidman, I. Burnison, Hartman, Mercer, Sayre and Kingery. Kingery won individual honors of the meet by annexing a first in the high jump, second in the broad jump, 220-yard dash, and discus throw, and a third in the javelin throw, giving him a total of fifteen points.

Coach Cushman took a mile and two mile relay team to the Drake Relays which showed up well under the stiff competition. The mile quartette composed of Kehr, I. Burnison, B. Burnison, and Briggs finished second giving Des Moines U. a real race. I. Burnison put up a game race being nosed out by a scant five yards at the tape. The two mile team gave a good account of themselves, although they failed to place. I. Burnison, Sayre, and Briggs deserve mention for their work in this race. It is of significance to note that Simpson's men were far ahead of any other Iowa Conference member except Des Moines University.

On May 5 the Red and Gold proved that she had a real track team by winning the Little Four Meet at Penn College, Oskaloosa. Simpson nearly doubled points on her nearest competitor, Iowa Wesleyan, despite the fact that Captain Weidman was on crutches and Briggs remained at home. Sayre and I. Burnison featured for the Methodists, the former winning the mile in 4:50, a second in the high jump, a second in his heat of the mile relay which took first in the meet, and then entered the two mile to set the pace for a few laps but surprised track enthusiasts by finishing the race and copping second plac. I. Burnison set the pace in the 440 and 880 in the fast time of 53.4 and 2:03 respectively. He later ran his heat of the mile relay in 53 flat. Other men who won firsts were Hartman in the hurdles, Jackson in the discus, Gates in the two mile, and Sipherd in the pole vault.

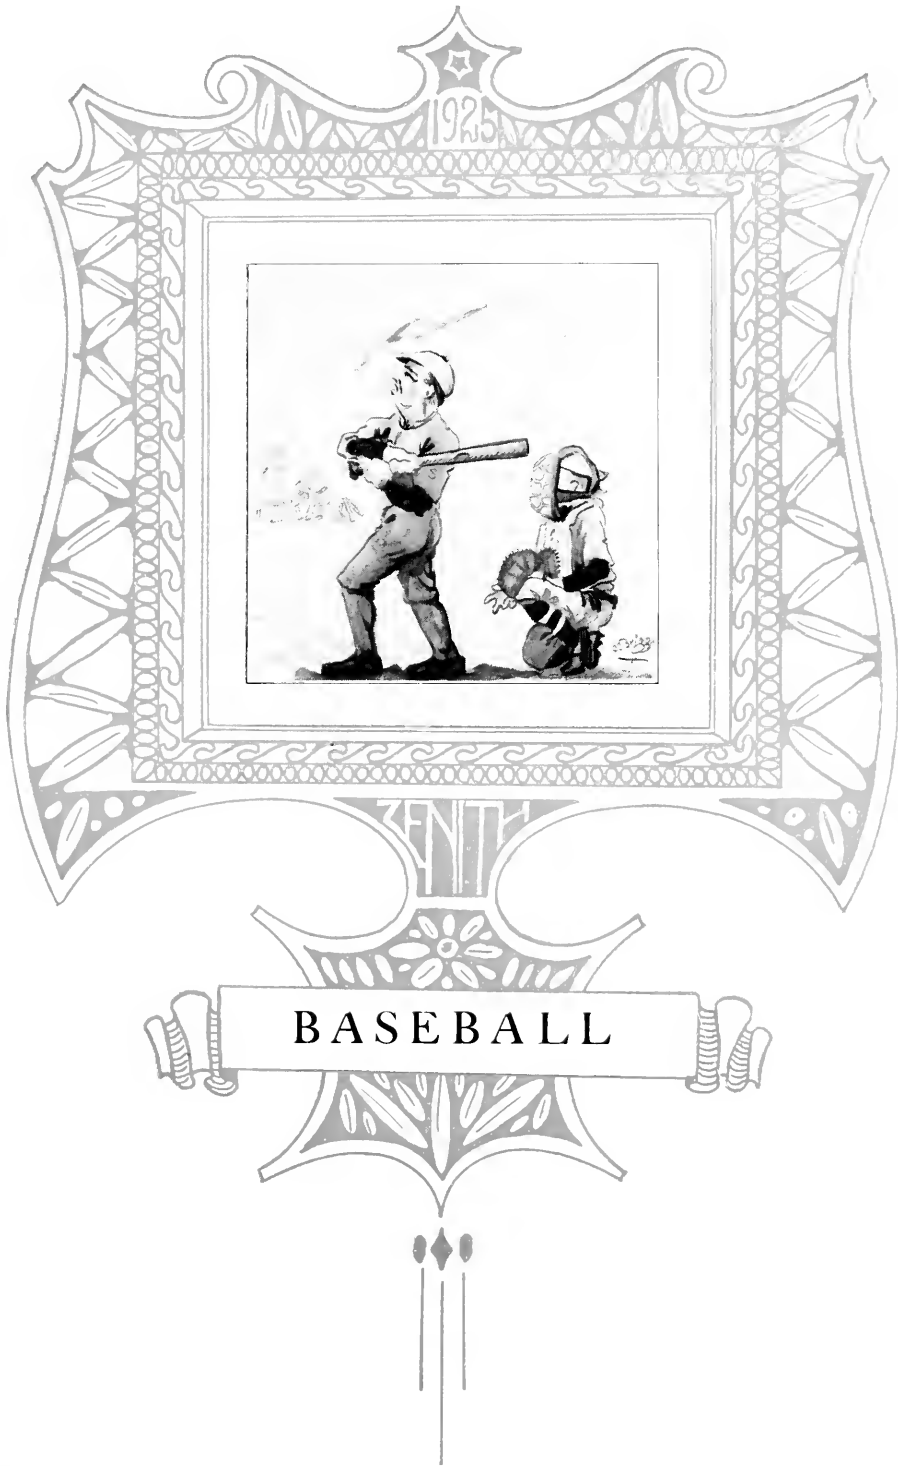

Bates, Wilkinson, Sigherd, Hartman, Kingery, Gates

At the second annual Iowa Conference Track and Field Meet Simpson won an easy second by gathering up seconds and thirds, while Des Moines U. won first. Morningside won third place with ten points less than the Red and Gold.

Kingery gave Simpson her necessary points late in the meet and enabled her to draw away from the Sioux City athletes, when he won the high jump. In the 120-yard hurdles, won by Buena Vista, Simpson made a clean sweep of the remaining places when Bates, Hartman, and Sterling breasted the tape in the order named. Sayre placed second in the mile, I. Burnison pressed the Parsons man hard in the 440-yard dash but was beaten by a half yard in a thrilling finish. Mercer showed a complete reversal of form in the pole vault and pushed the Des Moines man to win at 10 feet ten inches. Jackson placed second in both the discus and shot put. The meet was a great success and four conference records were broken.

No men starred individually for the Red and Gold and it was only the well balanced strength of the team that gave them second place in the conference meet. Although handicapped all season by the loss of the services of Captain Weidman, who injured his ankle on the new track early in the season, the team made an enviable record unequaled by any Simpson track team for several seasons past. With eleven letter men in school, there is no reason why the track season of 1924 should not be by far the most successful of any Simpson has had for several years.

BASEBALL 1923

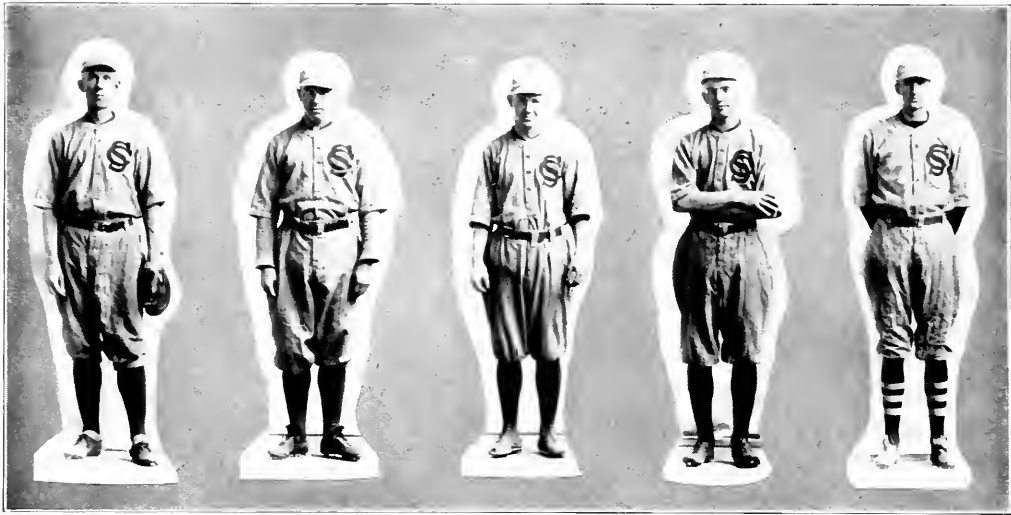

The baseball season was opened April 14 with Still College of Des Moines. The visitors won a slow and ragged game by the score of 9 to 7. Simpson held the lead until the eighth inning when a series of hits off of Hudgens followed by a home run with two men on bases scored five points for Still giving them the winning scores of the game.

Central was the first conference game to be played. Simpson defeated the Dutchmen by a score of 6 to 5. The team showed great improvement over the first game of the season. Central started the scoring with Manning in the box but Wilkinson came to the rescue and in the remaining eight innings held the Dutchmen to one score. Woods, McCoy, Zimmerman, Hudgens, and J. R. Smith made the scores for the Red and Gold.

Central revenged this defeat by winning a 10 to 3 victory the following week. Buchtel and Sterling pitched the game with Mercer behind the bat. The game was featured by many errors on both sides and a home run by McCoy and the good batting of Buchtel and Hudgens.

Minus the services of Easy Wilkinson, and Buchtel minus control the Red and Gold fell easy prey to the Peacock nine to the tune of 20 to 3. The Peacocks ran wild in the third inning and Hudgens, Watson, and Buchtel tried in vain to stem the onslaught of scores. Smith finally succeeded in taming down a bit and occupied the box until the eighth inning when Manning finished the game. Although the game was merely a track meet Coach Dorman's nine must be given credit for being a bunch of hard hitters.

Simpson again took on the Central aggregation and outbatted them in an 11 to 6 victory. The features of the contest were a home run by McCoy with one on base and his sensational catch of a line drive. Batteries for Simpson were Sterling and Mercer.

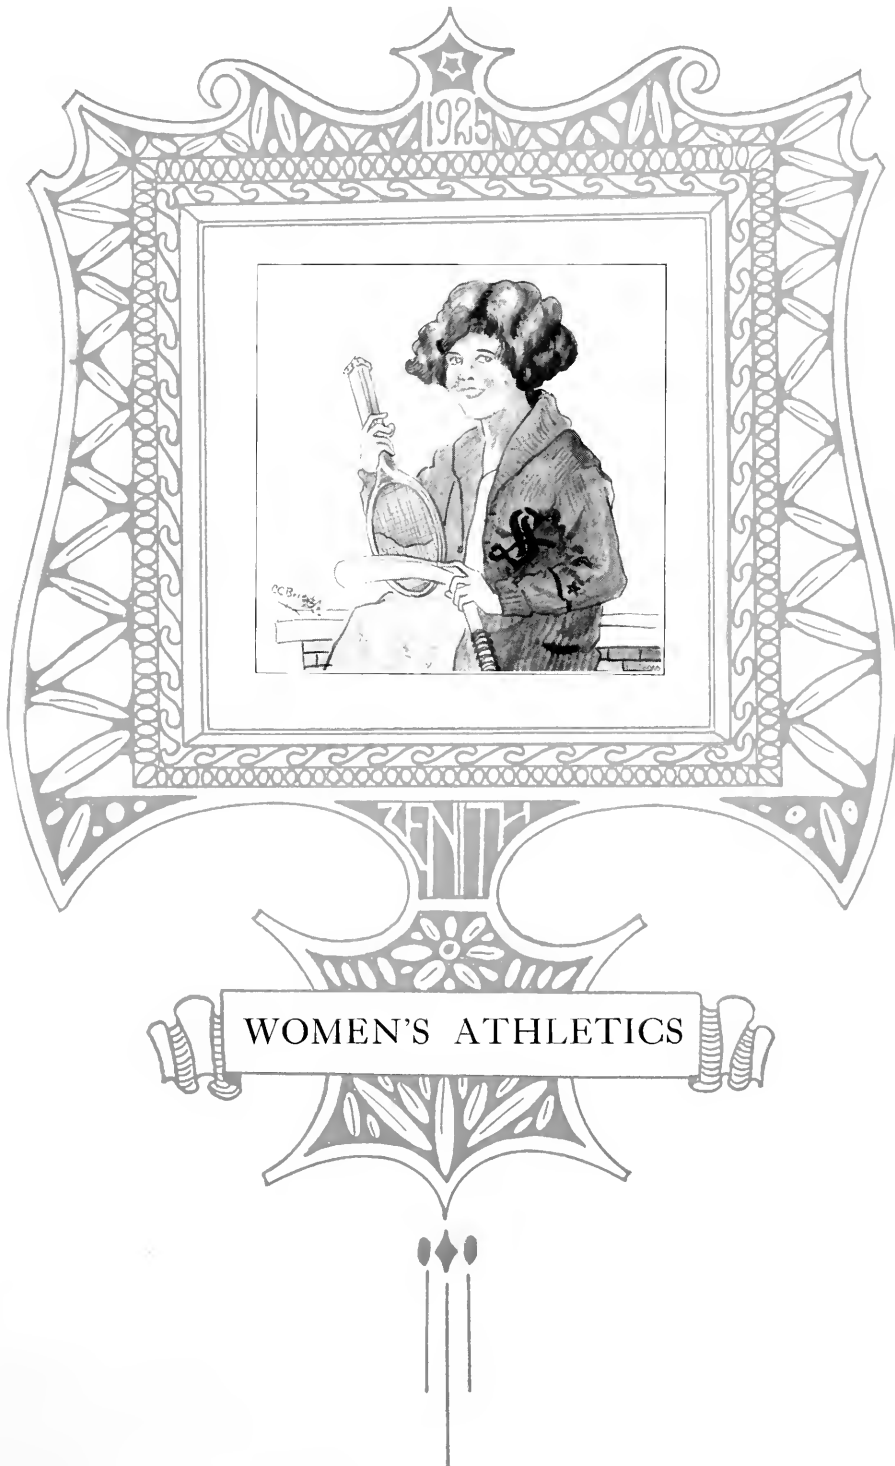

Smith, Jones, Zimmerman, Homer Woods, Wilkinson

In the last series of home games Simpson annexed two victories. Still College fell victims to a late batting rally and suffered an 11 to 9 defeat. The game was replete with thrills and hard hitting. Both teams made many errors. The final game of a four game series with Central proved to be a unique affair. Jones started on the mound but was yanked in favor of Sterling who pitched fairly good ball. Simpson went into a batting rally in the eighth inning. Three doubles, as many singles, and a home run gave the Red and Gold enough runs to win the game. In the last home game Parsons defeated Simpson 10 to 5 in the best game of the series. Sterling on the mound pitched a fair game holding the Wildcats scoreless to the fourth inning. In the eighth inning Zimmerman got on, followed by Barney and Hudgens and then Smith hit a home run bringing four scores. With the score seven to five the Red and Gold could not bunch their hits and in two successive innings two men died on bases while the Wildcat hurler was fooling the third batter with his curves. It was a good game to watch and more real baseball was demonstrated than at any other time during the season. McCoy, Smith, and Mercer played feature ball for Simpson.

The State Teachers contest took place in February weather in the midst of a cloud of dust. Wilkinson on the mound pitched a brilliant game but his support was very poor at times. The Pedagogue's homer in the fourth, with men on bases, was the extent of their earned runs and was the outstanding feature of the game. Zimmerman, the diminutive shortshop, speared some pretty grounders and proved to be one of Simpson's most consistent players. The score was 7-5 in favor of the Teachers. A return game with Parsons was called off at the end of the second inning because of rain. The score was 1 to 0 in favor of Parsons. Wilkinson was on the mound.

The varsity played its final game of the season with the Alumni. Although the varsity had been practicing all spring the old timers proved too much and won the game by a 6-5 score. The batteries for the alumni were Jackson, Hendrickson, and Bishoff. For the varsity Sterling and Mercer.

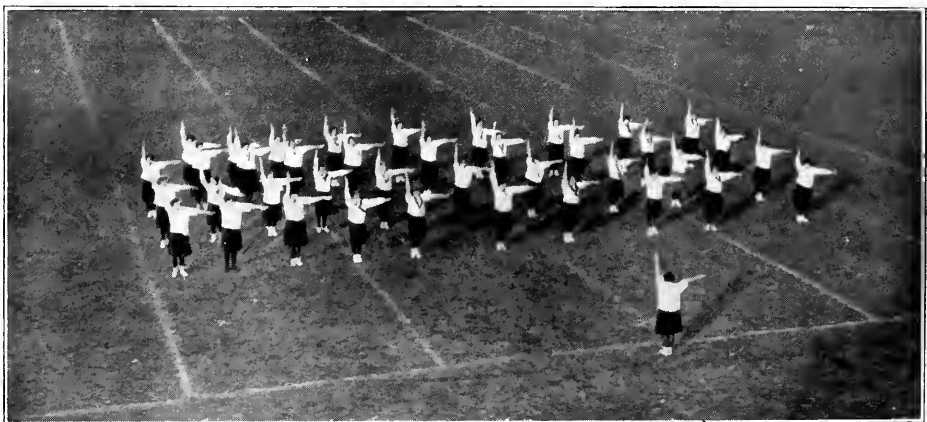

MISS IRENE SPRINGER

Another successful year has passed with Miss Irene Springer at the head of the Physical Education department. Miss Springer has taken a personal interest in the health of every girl and has helped to organize a health chart which is being widely used. Apparatus work has been a feature of physical culture and the Annual Apparatus contest which was started last year promises to be a success this year. Miss Springer has been a valuable advisor in W. A. A. and many undertakings have been successful due in part to her assistance.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the work which Miss Springer has done. She has a personality which has endeared her to every girl, and an interest and coöperation which has been an inspiration to all. Eloise Wright and Edna Hamilton have acted as assistants in the department of physical education.

W. A. A. BOARD

The past year has been one of the most successful for W. A. A. since its organization on our campus. The credit for this success is due to the able management of its president, Eloise Wright and the coöperation of the Board. W. A. A. has tried to make the various branches of athletics more outstanding. Basketball has been the major sport and due to the various sports classes, a better understanding of the game has been made possible, and more scientific plays worked out.

The aim of W. A. A. through the various sports is to promote a spirit of teamwork, and fair play; provide a means for stimulating friendships among the girls; to result in physical betterment and promote good will and fellowship.

The Women's Athletic Association was organized at the University of Iowa, Iowa City on March 10, 1911, when eight girls banded themselves together with the help of Miss Alice Wilkinson, physical director. They formed this organization which was intended to promote the spirit of fair play and sportsmanship among girls. Since that time the association has become a national organization and has proved itself a great success. Our local association of the W. A. A. was organized here at Simpson during the school year '21 and '22.

A successful Miniature Orpheum bill was put on March 1, under the direction of W. A. A. which may prove to be a tradition in years to come since it was so enthusiastically received by college and towns' people.

In order to become a member of W. A. A. a girl must have earned 50 points. To keep up her membership she must earn not less than 50 points a year. 500 points are necessary for a letter S, 1,000 for a sweater and 1,500 for a blanket. These points are earned by participation in the following sports: Soccer, Hockey, Basketball, Baseball, Track, Tennis, Hikes, and Apparatus Contest work.

W. A. A. SONG (Tune of Peggy O'Neill)

Oh the Simpson girl, who puts your head in a whirl
Is the one who hangs out at the gym,
She goes there each day, for that is the way,
To lose all your fat and keep thin.

Chorus:

If she hikes and swims my dear,
She's a W. A. A.
And plays tennis all the year,
She's a W. A. A.

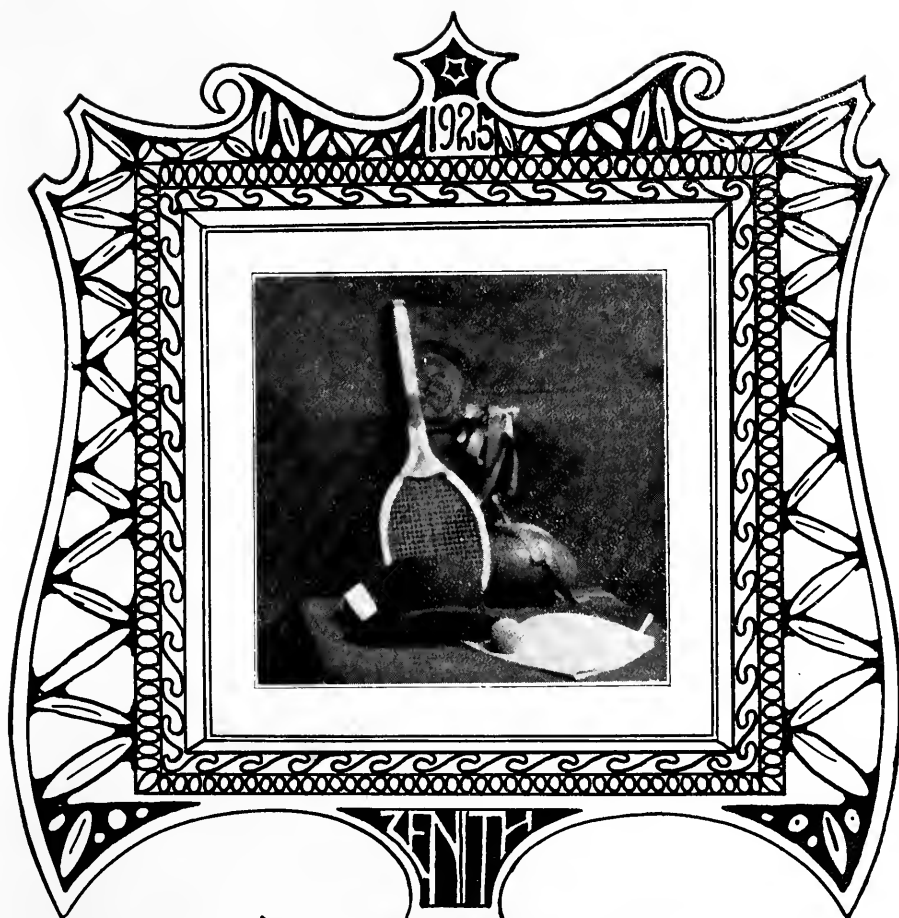

If she plays baseball with vigor and vim
Goes into the game, just fighting to win.
If she goes out for track and then dances back
Oh, she's a W. A. A.

She's an ardent sport fan, and just like a man
She works all the time for her "S"
She's just full of pep and she has a good rep
With the Dean, for she keeps her grades the best.

Chorus:

If she hikes and swims my dear,
She's a W. A. A.
And plays tennis all the year,
She's a W. A. A.

If basketball is her favorite game,
And playing it square is always her aim.
If she unlocks her locker, and goes out for soccer.
Oh, she's a W. A. A.

HANDBOOK AND DIRECTORY

A small pocket edition of facts about our campus is put into the hands of our students during the first few days of each school year in the form of the Student Handbook. Here in brief, concise form are given the facts about Indianola and Simpson College which make the new students become more familiar with the events common to each college student's small world as he lives four years on our campus.

Simpson has traditions galore to be handed down from class to class; these are told in the Handbook. Facts about our fraternities and other social groups; regulations of our social groups and rules governing the honor system as laid down by the student council; directions to the principal points of interest in Indianola; advertisements of Simpson boosters among the merchants; Simpson's songs and yells; all are given in the Handbook.

Probably the section used by the most students, and used most consistently through all the year, is the Student Directory with the name of every student registering during the first week, with his home address, his school address and his telephone number.

The edition is published through the courtesy of the publicity department of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

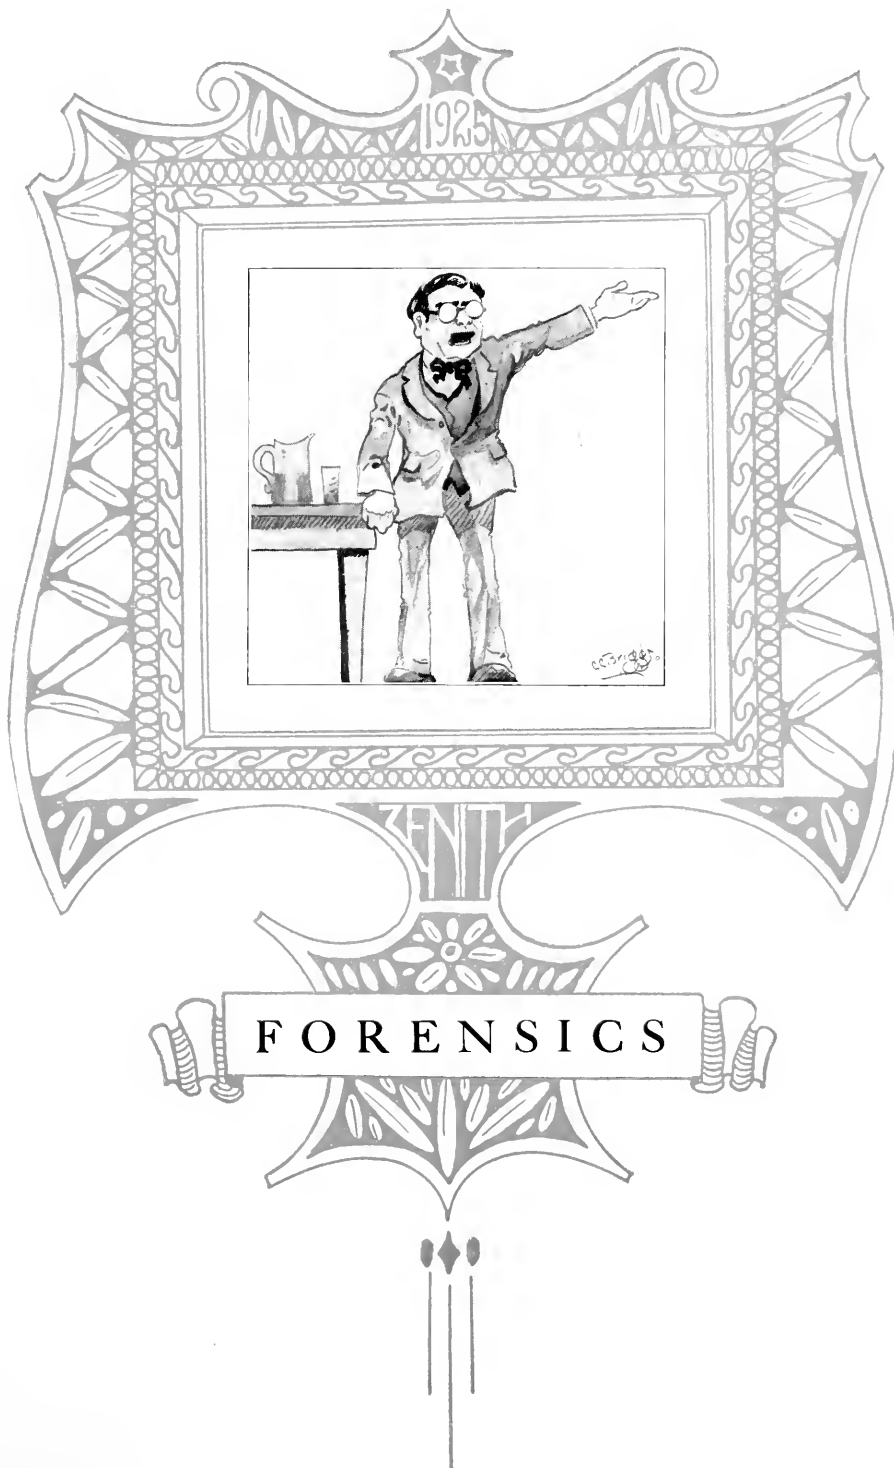

SIMPSON ALUMNI BULLETIN

When the alumni movement was launched three years ago, one of the first things thought of was a medium of communication between the alumni office and the "old grads" scattered throughout the world.

A publication patterned along general newspaper lines was decided upon rather than the type of bulletin much in vogue among colleges over the country. The alumni movement started the first organized effort to keep Simpson folks in touch with their alma mater, and so it was thought advisable to issue a publication which would be filled with news about Simpson college, and which would keep its readers informed in detail as to what was going on in the school.

The first Alumni Bulletin was issued December 1, 1921. It has been issued quarterly ever since. The Bulletin is filled with news about the happenings at college, football, track, basketball, debating, oratory, musical tours, news of the alumni and the Des Moines conference. It has a circulation of 14,500 copies which are sent to the alumni and former students, constituents of the college out in the conference and friends of the school. It is an eight page paper 12 by 18 inches, illustrated with cuts of interest to alumni.

Many colleges have this same style of alumni publication. Some very complimentary remarks have been passed on the Simpson Bulletin. A recent letter from Columbia University says that the Bulletin is the best thing of its kind that has ever come to the attention of the alumni office there. Other similar letters have been received, including a statement from President Gross of De Pauw University highly complimentary of the Simpson alumni paper.

FORENSICS

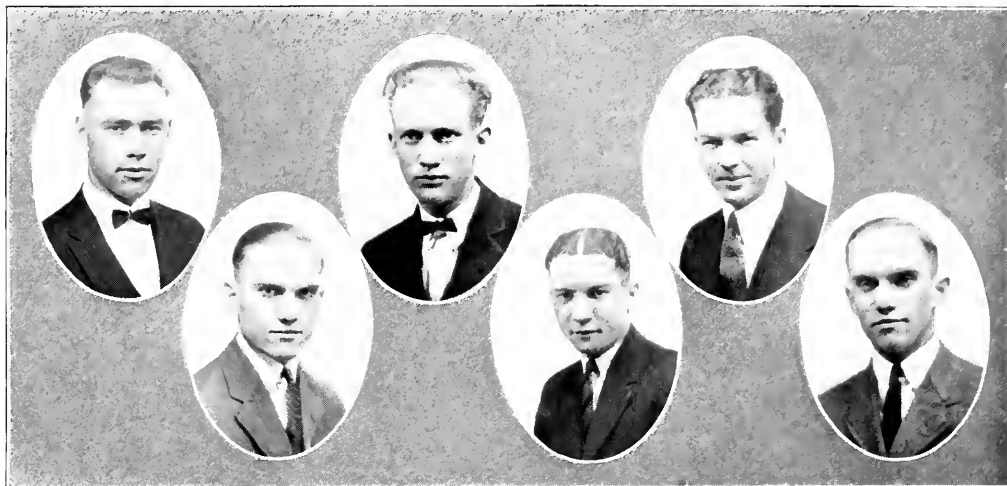

Although Simpson did not send a debating team to the Pacific coast again this year, the field of forensics has been very broad and debaters and orators have made fine showings. Not only have the girls and boys debate teams taken part in interesting dual and triangular debates at Simpson and neighboring colleges, but the girls debate team will represent Simpson at the National Convention. Walter Dillon, who last year won the state oratorical contest and placed in the National contest, will again represent Simpson in the National contest. We hope he will bring home even higher honors than before.

The National Pi Kappa Delta Convention will be held this year at the Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria, Illinois. Professor W. C. Dennis, head of the Publicity Department, and Homer Woods, president of the local Pi Kappa Delta chapter, will attend the convention.

Mr. Lloyd Sutton, having won the home oratorical contest, represented Simpson in the Intercollegiate contest and placed second in the State. Mr. Sutton's oration, entitled, "The Pathway to Peace," was exceptionally strong, and the fact that he entered into the spirit of his work with such enthusiasm made him indeed a representative orator.

MEN'S DEBATE

Hart, Chisholm, Giddens
Woods, Hillman, Woods

The question debated by the boys debate teams is, Resolved: that the United States should enter the League of Nations. Both the negative and affirmative teams, composed of Earl Hart, Roderick Chisholm, and Paul Giddens, and Howard Woods, John Hillman, and Homer Woods debated State Teachers in a dual contest, and lost by closely contested decisions. Other interesting contests arose in the triangular meet between Coe, Des Moines University, and Simpson.

Perhaps the greatest forensic clash and feature debate came when Simpson's negative team composed of Woods, Hillman, and Woods met the affirmative team from Redlands, California, at Simpson. Redlands stands in the very high rank as a debating school and the home team was prepared for a hard struggle. The audience was given the opportunity to voice its decision which made the outcome of the debate quite interesting. Mr. Roup, manager of the Acme Chautauqua acted as expert judge along with one other judge. The debate was won by the home team by one vote. The last decade of the season will be with the Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo., April 10, as the Fort Collins team returns from convention.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

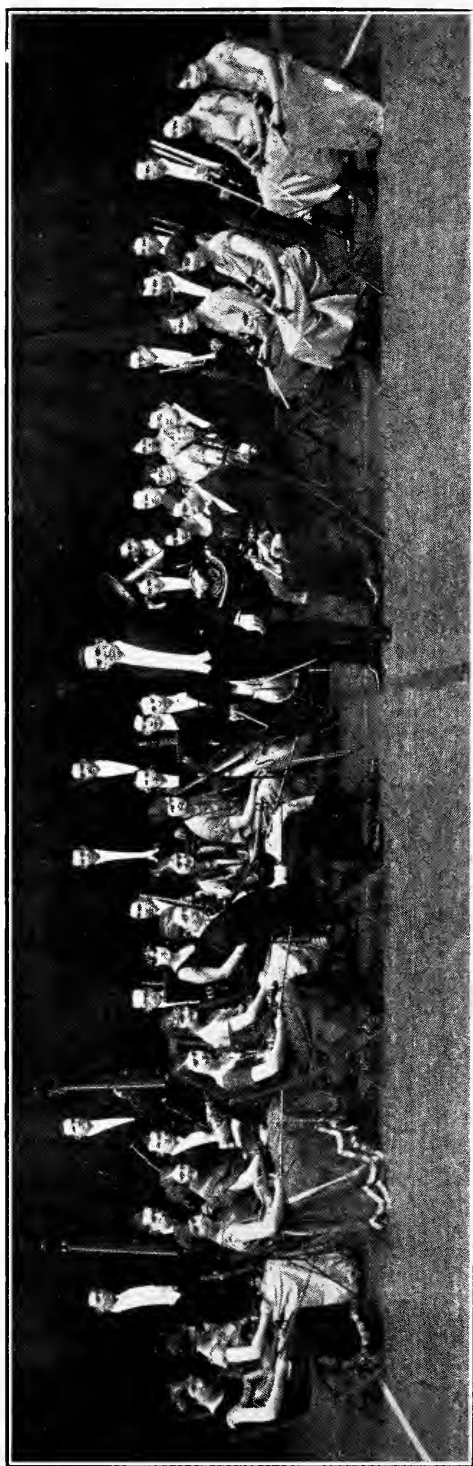

Harrold, Ledlie, May
Flynn, Armstrong, Cable

The question debated by the girls' teams is, Resolved: that the United States should join the League of Nations. The negative team composed of Elizabeth Cable, Ruby Armstrong, and Ruth Flinn, and the affirmative team composed of Frances Ledlie, Velta May, and Georgia Herold met with Parsons in a duel contest March 28. The open forum method of debate was used; that is the audience was given the opportunity to ask questions, there being no official judge. The triangle contest between Penn, Central, and Simpson on the World Court question was close and interesting. The Simpson affirmative team composed of Francis Ledlie, Ruby Armstrong, and Ruth Flinn defeated the Penn negative team here, while the Simpson negative team lost at Central.

At National Pi Kappa Delta convention at Peoria, Illinois, Velta May, Frances Ledlie, and George Herold will meet the Bradley Polytechnic Institute of Peoria, Illinois in one of the convention debates. Following the convention a rather novel debate at Simpson will be the one between Simpson girls' affirmative teams and the men's, negative team from Inter-Mountain Union College, Helena, Montana, on April 7.

LADIES' GLEE CLUB

The Simpson Ladies' Glee Club started on its Annual Easter Vacation tour on April 16 and gave ten successful concerts.

The larger towns along the Northwestern line were included in the itinerary. To the west the club went as far as Council Bluffs and to the east as far as Perry.

The success of every performance was a definite proof of Professor Bronson's ability as the director of the voice department of the conservatory.

THE BLACK FRIARS

On the 12th of January, 1924 a mass meeting of students interested in dramatics was held to consider the proposition of instituting a society for the study and presentation of plays and readings. On the 29th of that same month the ideals of this group were realized by the first meeting of the BLACK FRIARS, inaugurated by readings by Professor Dennis and Miss Lucille Beveridge. Sessions held every Tuesday night are featured by one act plays to which the public is invited.

The program of this first semester has been very successful. The following are a few of the plays that have been presented: "Proposal under Difficulties"; "Poor Old Jim"; "Neighbors"; "Flutter-Mouse"; "Rain"; "The Burglar"; "The Curtain"; and "The Clod".

The Black Friars has been a valuable addition to the public speaking department of the College and is working in conjunction with the Drama Classes of that department so that the whole school may expect to reap many benefits. The program has been progressing splendidly and the members have responded eagerly to the new work. Bright as the club's history has been the plans for the future are still brighter. Next year the contemplated designs will give the school a continuous succession of plays and entertainments.

EVERETT LITERARY SOCIETY

In the year 1865 a few young men, undergraduate students of "Bluebird Seminary" banded themselves together in a literary Society under the name of "Philomathean." In the year 1867, at the suggestion of one of the members the name was changed to "Everett" in honor of Edward Everett, an American statesman, orator, and scholar.

From the time of the foundation of the society many successful men have been enrolled in its ranks for the purpose of receiving a more thorough culture in literature, oratory, debate and parliamentary law.

THE choice as one of the Representative Women of Simpson College is one of the highest honors within the gift of the student body. Intellectuality, social leadership, democracy, personality, character, and the enthusiasm and ability with which the student has entered into the organized life of the school are factors which contribute to the choice of Representative Simpson Women. The Representative Simpson girl has a distinct personality but she has entered into the life of the school so thoroughly that her life is an expression of the spirit of Simpson.

As Representative Women of Simpson College the student body this year picked Catharine Carpenter, Eunice Johnson, and Myrtle Tennant. To the girls who are representative of Simpson and to the spirit which they represent the following pages are dedicated.

Eunice Johnson

Catharine Carpenter

Myrtle Tennant

KWAINT KAMPUS KOLOR

Dedicated to the Spirit of Things as They Are

PROLOGUE

Before throwing on the screen some glimpses of Kwaint Kolor as it exists on the Simpson campus a word of explanation is in order. The aim of this section is to portray Simpson as it is,—to bring out the campus color that is not found in the compacts and lip sticks of sham; to portray all the quirks and foibles of student life; and to show things as they are and not as they ought to be, as people would like to have us think they are, and as the faculty believes they are. The Simpson of chapel speeches, heating plant sessions, and sorority scandalfests; the Simpson of Saturday mornings clad in bungalow aprons and flannel shirts; Simpson as the milkman sees it;—that is the Simpson with which this section will deal. We would rub off all the powder on an Alpha Chi's nose to discover one little freckle of truth. So do not be surprised at what you read herein for truth is oftentimes far stranger than a Pi Phi without any E's. Do not blame us for what is thrown on the screen. For we are merely trying to portray a truthful picture of Simpson life stripped of all its shams and seen through the mirror of a smile. Our aim is to present, to portray, to amuse, and above all to show the folly of it all. Do not be shocked at what follows. It is true or it would never have been included in this section, and it is pure or it would never have passed the censors.

KWAINT KAMPUS COLOR

As Seen by the Book Store Philosopher

The book store philosopher was hunched over the counter deep in a study of the morning paper. "What better person," I thought, "could I find to show the readers of the 1925 ZENITH the Kwaint Kolor of the Simpson Campus." So I approached the sage of Simpson and made my wishes known. With alacrity and the willingness to help that characterizes him he replied, "Sure I'll show your friends over the campus. Just a minute until I finish the sport page. Ready folks? Here goes.

"We'll start with the buildings. This little shack here is the den of thieves from which I get my name. All those fellows in there are my playmates, the book store loafers. No, they don't stay there all the time. They leave the building at meal times but that's all they will leave. What do they do? Oh talk. Talk is cheap, but it is the only thing around here that is cheap. That fellow who just came out is Shultz. Yes, there is generally room for at least one more fellow in there when he is, providing that it isn't Joe Meek. There's Morley. His teachers say he doesn't have a very fertile mind but he certainly does have a fertile face. He can grow most anything on it.

"That tall brick building isn't the Kappa house. It is the Science Hall. A few Sigs and Taus have classes there too, but they are all taking Chemistry or Physics. The Zenith artist has a studio on the top floor and all the girls go up there,—he says they pose for him. There used to be a museum up there but all the fossils got put on the faculty.

"Here is the chapel building. That is where all the chapel speeches are made. There are two kinds of chapel speeches. One kind tells the students to go to heaven and the other kind tells them to be sure and go to the Fete des Fous. It is a little confusing; you don't always know which to do but most of the students go to the Fete des Fous. Professor Moats brought a chapel speaker here once and George has never been the same since.

"Mary Berry Hall is where you go to meet one person and meet another that is better looking. It furnishes lots of color to the campus. Those weird sounds are the hash hounds. I'd take you down to see them but they are vicious when they are eating. They would probably get you into an argument about the Ku Klux Klan and we wouldn't get away in time to see the buildings before dark.

"This is the library. Two kinds of people come to the library. Some come to study others come for pleasure. The ones that come to study sit at the tables and the ones that come for pleasure go downstairs behind the book shelves. Brenton Henderson runs the library. I can't show him to you now. He'll be busy for an hour. He is getting a book for a lady. Simpson students don't go auto riding;—they come to the library.

"The large building across the street is the gymnasium. That is where the athletes hang out. The basketball team isn't there now. The A. T. O.'s are having fraternity meeting. Bramhall is an athlete too. He broke his hip this winter but he won't say how. The athletes are nice boys and they work awfully hard,—they say. Some of them go to school too. There are girls that are athletes too. Most of the ones that aren't athletes have one. It is asserted that they play basketball but no one has ever seen them.

"In the Administration Building is where most of the college is. That is where Rae Dean has his office. Tiptoe in so you won't wake up the Psychology class. Upstairs is the Y. M. C. A. room which is an ideal loafing place. Here is the Registrar's office. Don't wake them up. They won't know anyhow.

"The little building back of the hall is the Home Ec building. Some of the girls who are taking it, say they are going to teach but they don't fool anyone. Across the alley is the heating plant which is capable of turning out immense quantities of heat on balmy spring afternoons. The boys are all the time going there to see a friend of theirs named Nick O'Teen.

"No, that's not the hash hounds again. That's the conservatory. They say that it is awfully expensive to take work at the conservatory. It must be. The boys never seem to have money enough to get their hair cut. Middleton is going to get his bobbed. The musicians have lots of temperament,—most as much temperament as hair. They give concerts sometimes but most of the time you never see them. There are girl musicians too, but aside from belonging to Mu Phi most of them are perfectly normal.

"Lorraine Hall is an overflow from Mary Berry only more so. It is a reformed apartment building but that is the only thing around the place that is reformed. There are six girls in a suite. Sometimes they study,—when the other five have gone out. The Lorraine girls wear the nicest clothes on the campus,—they have a wider range to pick from.

"This isn't the Alpha Chi front yard. Its Buxton Park. Sometimes the other sororities use it too. On warm evenings you have to come early to get a place for it fills up in a hurry. You would see lots of color here if it wasn't so dark. Well, I guess you've seen most of the campus so lets call it a day."

THE BOOK STORE PHILOSOPHER GOSSIPS ABOUT THE GREEKS

"Will I tell you about the Greeks? Why, sure I know them well. I go down there to get my shoes shined every week. Oh, you don't mean the shoe-shining parlor. You were talking about the fraternities. Why don't you say what you mean? Sure I'll tell you about them. All I know and a lot that I don't know. Just stick around until I finish copying this History notebook.

"Well, to start with the fraternities, or as you say the Greeks. The most noticeable thing about them is how well they like each other. Especially the girls. They are proof of the fact that eight out of every seven women-haters are women. There was talk about having an inter-sorority basketball tournament but Miss Bunch objected.

The Phi Phis claim they are a fraternity, but we are from Missouri. They claim they have a corner on all the brains and they seem to have made the faculty believe it. They are awfully popular—their chaperon believes in trusting the girls. That is Catharine Carpenter over there. Whenever they want to win an election they put her up. No, that fellow there isn't a Pi Phi. That's Karr.

The Alpha Chis own the campus. If you don't believe it, ask them. They'll show you the deed. There are still one or two jobs around the campus that aren't held by Alpha Chis. Peter Ross is still janitor of the gymnasium. No, it isn't true that Coolidge asked them to handle his campaign this year. If he had he'd be elected sure. The girls have a song about no one can touch them but they bought a new davenport this year anyway. They got it with what they saved on their light bill.

The Tri-Delts believe that a ring on the hand is worth five on the phone. Opportunity comes but once in every four years and the girls are sure making use of it. They use up lots of wax on the floor in the solarium—they say it comes from moving the victrola around. "Stew" turned the lights out once. Ask him about it.

The Beta Xi's have a regular sorority, they say. The A. T. O.'s turned out the lights to sing the dungeon song and the girls have been insulted ever since. Miss Springer is their chaperon. Lots of Leicht around their house.

I don't see any Kappas around. They must all be studying somewhere. We'll have to go out to the house to see them. There aren't many of them on the campus. There isn't any election on. No, they're not initiating. That's just a game they play. They call it hot-hand but the name only describes half of it. The boys are students. They will show you the cup if you'll coax them.

Here is the A. T. O. house. If you are an athlete don't come too close. They will pledge you sure. They have a cup too—won it playing basketball though. The boys claim that it is useful as well as ornamental. They raise lots of shrubbery around the house and some of them even carry it around with them. Nice lawn? Well, why shouldn't it be green.

This large building here isn't the court house. It's the Sigma Delt house. The Sigs are the school politicians. Every one of them votes at least once in all the elections. Ask them to show you their Y.M.C.A. cabinet. That's not the ice man. That's Kingery—he's their athlete. The only time their political machine failed was in the election of campus characters. They still can't understand why Harrington was defeated.

Then there is the Commons Club, male and female. They claim they are not fraternities. The Commoners live way out on West Ashland and take care of the Tri Delts' furnace. There are so many of the Commoners that when they have a group picture taken they have to have a panorama. There are still a few fellows in school that don't belong but they have ordered a fresh supply of pledge buttons.

The Commonettes are a new organization so I don't know much about them. Telfer says they are all right so I guess it must be so. Miss Stahl is a Commonette. Nuff sed.

THE BOOK STORE PHILOSOPHER AT THE SENIOR RECEPTION

Not being an A. T. O. I had exhausted my supply of patience and found myself repeating the same cuss words before I got my collar fastened. "A lot of trouble," you might say, but a college student must get a little outside polish even though with it he acquires softening of the brain and hardening of the vocabulary. Moreover, this evening I was going to fuss Mary Grinn, a co-ed who can go through from soup to nuts at a formal and never miss a fork.

I chewed a package of spearmint while Mary was adding a little local color.

"I hope I didn't keep you waiting," and Mary followed the words down the stairs.

"Not at all," I said, sticking five wrappers in my pocket and sticking my tongue in the empty side of my mouth to preserve the regularity of contour.

We went to the senior reception. After going down the line and being introduced to people you either already knew or won't remember a minute later, we dodge through a broken field signing our names on people's programs. I caught snatches of conversation concerning the probability of rain and the assignment in Economics for tomorrow. "Here," I thought, "is the spirit of our great co-educational institution expressing itself."

"Isn't Tut Kingery strong looking?" whispered Mary.

"So is the punch," I answered as I saw Joe Meek take a second glass.

I haven't enjoyed myself so much as at that reception since I wrote off my last accounting exam. Turn off the lights, will you Jake? The two greatest menaces of civilization are Bolshevism and . . .

KWICK KOMMENTS OF THE BOOK STORE PHILOSOPHER

Art Morley says his exam week will be a valuable review for his course next semester.

One of our good friends at the Lorraine says that if men knew what women think they would be twenty times as audacious, but that if women knew what men think they still wouldn't know much.

Spuire Harned says the only letter he ever received at college was one from the registrar.

"Men should be frank and tell their girls everything," says our little girl with the solitaire. "Yep, and women should be generous and believe it."

LEMMIE LEAVER
(Apologies to Kipling)

"What are the bells a-ringin' for?" said Freshman green as jade.
"To start exams, to start exams," the upper classman said.
"What makes you look so scared, so scared?" said Freshman green as jade.
"I'm dreadin those I've got to take," the upper classman said.
An' they're flunkin' Lemmie Leaver, he as used to be so gay,
The classes are in session—he isn't so today,
They're shootin' questions at him that would make your hair turn gray;
An' they're flunkin' Lemmie Leaver in the mornin.'

"What makes the front rows look so sad?" said Freshman green as jade.
"Exams are stiff, exams are stiff," the upper classman said.
"What makes the rear rows whisper so?" said Freshman green as jade.
"They're tryin' to crib, they're tryin' to crib," the upper classman said.
They are flunkin' Lemmie Leaver for he doesn't know his stuff,
He thought he could bluff 'em but the teachers called his bluff;
The faculty decided that he doesn't know enough—
So they're flunkin' Lemmie Leaver in the mornin.'

"'Is chair was right 'and chair to mine," said Freshman green as jade.
"E wont be sittin' there again," the upper classman said.
"E's bought me cokes a score o' times," said Freshman green as jade.
"Well after this you'll buy your own," the upper classman said.
For they're flunkin' Lemmie Leaver, an' it ain't because e's dumb,
'E simply wouldn't study—he ain't the only one—
An' he's leavin' on the first train for the place from where he come,
For they're flunkin' Lemmie Leaver in the mornin.'

"Who's that as Prexy's talkin' to?" said Freshman green as jade.
"It's Lemmie tryin' to stay in school," the upper classman said.
"What's that as Prexy's sayin' now?" said Freshman green as jade.
"E's tellin' 'im he'll have to go," the upper classman said.
They are done with Lemmie Leaver an' they will not let him stay,
'E flunked in all his classes, so they're sendin' him away,
Oh, the rest of us are worried and we'll study hard today,
After flunkin' Lemmie Leaver in the mornin.'

BEREAVEMENT

Slowly and silently she laid the white lifeless form in the place that had been prepared for it. Tenderly and gently she rose and gazed for the last time on that which she had brought into being. Mute, dry-eyed, alone, for a short while she leaned over the little rounded body that was fast growing cold. Suddenly those who were near were disturbed by the heart-rending shriek that echoed through the stillness of the early summer morning. Again there was silence; then a shriek. We rushed to the spot. We raised the lifeless little body, carried it in the house and had it boiled for breakfast. The little red hen had done her duty again.

GALOSHES

Slip! Slop! Clip! Clop!
Onward the marching throng;
Slishing, slashing, splishing splashing,
Wierd discordant song.

Some up high and some rolled low,
Cold or drizzly, on they go,
Never stopping, ever slopping,
Slushing through the snow.

Sizes big and sizes small,
Jingle, jangle, one and all,
Slushing slouching, shuffling, muffling
Heavy footsteps as they fall.

Co-eds giddy, co-eds staid,
Join the clattering parade,
Slipping, slopping, flipping, flopping,
In the overshoe brigade.

LEAP YEAR

Oh, I'm to be wed in the June time,
Mid a wealth of orange blooms—
And my love and I shall live for aye
In a couple of furnished rooms.

I told him that I loved him.
And I asked him for his love;
And the moon bent down to listen,
While the bright stars winked above.

But it was dark in that little orchard—
And think as hard as I can;
I can't recall for the life of me,
What was the name of that man!??

A blanket of snow is a beautiful thing,
So pretty and soft and white.
But a blanket of snow ain't the kind of a thing
I want over me at night.

THE INDIANOLA SPIRIT

"Indianola boosts the best," is the slogan of the community in which Simpson is located and the citizens of Indianola are unitedly behind Simpson and all that Simpson stands for.

Simpson owes much to Indianola. The town furnishes the students comfortable homes to stay in, an abundance of clean wholesome recreations, stores well stocked with up-to-date and moderately priced goods, and a genial atmosphere of real friendliness in addition to the material support of the citizens of the town who make it possible for many of the students to be in school.

It would be difficult to conceive a town which more closely approaches the ideal for a college town than Indianola. A beautiful residential town surrounded by a rich agricultural region, Indianola is a city of homes and a community of wholesome Christian ideals. Many families move here every year because of this atmosphere in order to give their children an opportunity to obtain an education under the most favorable circumstances.

The merchants of the community are unusually loyal to Simpson. Opportunities for students to earn their way thru school are provided by down town co-operation with the college. The townspeople give unfailing support to the school and to student enterprises. Indianola is a community of schools and churches and the people here are friendly, loyal, democratic, wholesome—the type of people to be expected in such a community.

In appreciation of the beautiful environment in which Simpson finds itself and also in appreciation of the substantial way in which our friends, the Indianola merchants have, thru their advertising, helped make possible the 1925 Zenith, we have in co-operation with the Indianola Rotary Club included pictures of Indianola that prospective students and their parents may know of the ideal environment in which Simpson is situated.

Richard Scroggs received honorable mention for the all-state team, a place on the Register's first all-conference team and a berth on the Capital's second all-conference team. Captain Fawcett was placed on the honor roll for both all-state and all-conference teams. Harold Fisher was placed at center on Sam Smith's second all-conference team. The fact that four of Simpson's team received this recognition in competition with all the other athletes in the state is a tribute to the prowess of the basketball team of 1923-4.

SIGNS OF SPRING

"I'm sure it will soon be warmer," said the lad as he bent over his father's knee.

"You may talk of the signs of the weather
Of the birds of the air, how they sing,
But to seat yourself on the point of a tack
Is the sign of an early spring.

He: "I went past your house last night."

She (perfectly satisfied): "Much obliged."

This represents the increase in Simpson College's endowment and means increased facilities and an improvement in the educational program of the college.

You can share these benefits and educate your sons and daughters at one-half the cost if you will move to Indianola or the surrounding country.

We wish to assure you that a cordial welcome awaits you at the Warren County State Bank. Should there be any information regarding local conditions which you desire, or if there is any way in which our service can be of value to you, we invite you to write or call and see us at your first opportunity.

RADIO! !

The Bible records the fact that the first broadcasting set was made from a rib.

Headline: "Scientist says 90% of girls who marry are working girls."

That is true enough, as far as it goes. But he neglected to say that a hundred per cent of the girls who marry are working men.

Ain't it tough,
When you're out with
The "only" girl
And you've told her
How much you
Love her
For her beautiful face
And pretty ways;
And you've told her
You'll give up
All other girls, and
You'll reform and be good

For her sake;
And then,
When you've sealed it
With a marvelous,
Kiss;
And you take off
Your frat pin
And you're putting it on
Her dress;
And then you stick yourself
On some other guy's
Fraternity pin,
Ain't it tough?

Girls are babbling rivers;
Love's a foolish game
Hearts are bits of timber
In a red, red flame.

You and I have gambled
Recklessly a while,
Since the playtime's over
Leave me with a smile

What if now my heart holds
Ash where flames were rife,
I am off of women
For the rest of life.

BY · THEIR · WORKS · YE · SHALL KNOW · THEM

So it was in olden times and so it is today. It always was and always will be. It is not uncommon for concerns to lay claim to doing the finest grades of printing, when, in fact, their work belies the statement. Others are able to produce a fine quality of work, but at a prohibitive cost.

The one right end of printing office management is quality. Any shop operation that loses sight of that fundamental is fatally wrong. A printing plant is inefficient if its product is not as good as it can be made. That does not mean that economy of production comes second. The two must run side by side. A manufacturing institution is defective if it does not provide maximum quality with the greatest economy. Under that rule alone can there be equal justice to producer and consumer which is the moral obligation of business.

"Jahn & Ollier Again"

ACHIEVEMENT

The goal of every ambitious man and firm is typified in the rapid growth of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company—the universal esteem in which their art and plates are held by the large national advertisers—and the enviable reputation for prompt deliveries which they enjoy.

Delivering this same high quality and careful personal supervision to schools has built up for us the largest college and high school annual engraving business in America—400 books yearly.

Thirty thousand square feet of floor space (4 floors) and over two hundred and fifty skilled employees are required to meet the constant demand for "J&O" commercial photographs, art, color process plates and photo engraving (one complete floor is devoted to color process work).

Intelligent supervision of all work by many skillful office service men eliminates your troubles. Sales service men sent everywhere.
